Labour Law and Social Progress Roger Blanpain,Frank Hendrickx,2016-04-22 For forty years the international watchword has been deregulation of labour law and of social security Now however the rise in unemployment and lack of employment security the dizzying inequality gulf and the environmental disasters and mass migrations caused by this deregulation are generating an impetus that defines social justice no longer merely in terms of the equitable distribution of resources but also and often primarily in terms of the just recognition of persons This collection of incisive essays recognizes that the growing interdependence of all of the people of the earth demands that labour rights are understood as an aspect of human rights and thus envisaged at the international level Contributions by twenty outstanding labour law scholars from a range of countries worldwide provide in depth analysis of such aspects of the debate as the following collective action in the interests of market effectiveness as well as fair outcomes for workers right to strike resilience of trade unions and collective bargaining as mechanisms of labour market regulation importance of national policy despite the influence of global market forces in shaping national outcomes work as the locus of the relationship between humans and nature search for a legal foundation for corporate social responsibility litigation as an alternative to collective bargaining the role of collective labour relations for immigrants and disabled people lessons that developed countries could learn from mechanisms pioneered in developing countries in coping with conditions of austerity and the trap of soft law and of declarations of intent that weigh lightly in the face of the power of the interests at play in international trade The essays take stock of the dimensions of the current situation and also explore paths leading to a better achievement of social justice in labour law These essays recognize that economic development and the pursuit of social justice are interwoven in a quest for social progress that includes mechanisms designed to eliminate unjustifiable inequality For lawyers and other parties committed to the emerging political will to not only respect fundamental rights but more broadly improve labour and environmental protection this book opens abundant avenues that can be pursued in practice and in policy The volume is based on a selection of papers presented at the 21st World Congress of the International Society for Labour and Social Security Law in Cape Town in 2015 From Hope to Action through Knowledge Ramesh Bharuthram, Larry

Pokpas, 2020-10-27 Its November 2001 A university in dire straits financially bankrupt burdening a debt in excess of R100 million a disillusioned and demoralised staff complement still reeling from the trauma of retrenchments coupled with an academic project facing collapse as student numbers dwindle by a third to less than 10 000 Is there a future for such an institution described by some as a basket case with very bleak prospects of survival This was the landscape that confronted the newly appointed Vice Chancellor and Chief Executive Officer CEO of the University of the Western Cape Fast forward to December 2014 The CEO retires from office bestowing upon his successor a financially sound institution with a flourishing academic project recording unprecedented achievements enriching the lives of more than 20 000 students and widely acknowledged as a research led university This book narrates how visionary leadership with the steadfast belief that your past does not determine your future galvanised an entire organisation into believing that a better outcome was indeed achievable and the will to move forward as a collective with a redefined purpose and commitment to achieve that which was once deemed impossible Academic Literacy and Student Diversity Ursula Wingate, 2015-04-01 This book provides a comprehensive overview of approaches to academic literacy instruction and their underpinning theories as well as a synthesis of the debate on academic literacy over the past 20 years The author argues that the main existing instructional models are inadequate to cater for diverse student populations and proposes an inclusive practice approach which encourages institutional initiatives that make academic literacy instruction an integrated and accredited part of the curriculum The book aims to raise awareness of existing innovative literacy pedagogies and argues for the transformation of academic literacy instruction in all universities with diverse student populations Law & Investment in Africa Tinahse Kondo,2021-04-19 Zimbabwe has had a chaotic foreign direct investment FDI regime This has created the need for a detailed volume on the most important developments around the protection and treatment of FDI at not only a domestic level but also at bilateral regional and international levels The author argues that while Zimbabwe has now harmonised previously scattered legislation under the Zimbabwe Investment and Development Agency Act Chapter 14:37 and taken measures to reverse to varying degrees controversial policies such as the land reform programme and the Indigenism and Economic Empowerment Policy scepticism still prevails over the investor friendliness of the FDI regime in Zimbabwe Feminist Politics, Intersectionality and Knowledge Cultivation Radhika Govinda,2025-02-11 In Feminist Politics Intersectionality and Knowledge Cultivation Radhika Govinda engages with intersectionality as critical theory as critical methodology and as critical pedagogy to make sense of feminist politics in India and beyond and knowledge making on feminist politics as such In doing so she makes a case for theory making conducting empirical research and classroom teaching to be understood as integral parts of knowledge cultivation each feeding into the other Differently put the book encapsulates Govinda's engagement spanning fifteen years and four case studies exploring what insights an intersectional lens throws up and how these insights complicate our understandings of marginality privilege and solidarity in the field of women's and gender studies in feminist classrooms in women's and social movements in particular NGO led feminist activism state led development initiatives and digital feminist campaigns and in everyday social relations in rural and urban spaces Uncovering interrogating and disrupting the politics of coloniality and feminist complicity is an important running thread in the book Through a reflexive account of her own location and practice in the academy at the cusp of the global north and the global south Govinda highlights the importance of being attentive to intersectional positionality and to the contextual specificities of engaging in feminist politics and knowledge making in the age of global neoliberalism In Pursuit of Epistemic Healing in South African Universities Wanelisa Xaba,2025-09-30 This book demonstrates the epistemic challenges in the South African education system and asks readers to think critically about the university's role in a decolonial future Wanelisa Xaba reveals how Western colonial educational models severed indigenous ways of knowing and learning across the Global South and settler colonial contexts Presenting narratives capturing ongoing histories of violence this book shows how Black South African students navigate intersecting identities of race class gender and spirituality within university settings It shows how racial discrimination from fellow students academics and staff coupled with discriminatory language policies financial exclusion and violent colonial curricula affects Black students wellbeing on university campuses Xaba argues that these intersecting colonial violences mirror spiritual violence hinder their holistic citizenship in South African universities and result in psycho spiritual disease By centring Black students voices this book provides crucial insights for educators policymakers activists healers and institutions committed to creating affirming academic spaces and epistemic healing It is an insightful read for scholars researching decoloniality in higher education as well as students of feminist studies decolonial theory educational justice and critical university studies
