Teacher Agency and Policy Response in English Language Teaching Patrick C. L. Ng, Esther F.

Boucher-Yip, 2016-08-05 The role of English in the global arena has prompted official language in education policy makers to adopt language education policies to enable its citizens to be proficient in English and to access knowledge. Local educational contexts in different countries have implemented English education in their own ways with different pedagogical goals, motivations, features, and pedagogies. While much of the research cited in English language planning policy has focused on macro level language policy and planning, there is an increasing interest in micro planning, in particular teacher agency in policy response. Individual teacher agency is a multifaceted amalgam, not only of teachers' individual histories, professional training, personal values, and instructional beliefs, but also of how these interact with local interpretations and appropriations of policy. Teacher Agency and Policy Response in English Language Teaching examines the agency of the teacher in negotiating educational reforms and policy changes at the local and national levels. Chapters in the book include English language teaching in China, teacher agency in response to curricular innovations, incorporating academic skills into EFL curriculum, teacher agency in response to global mobility challenge, Teacher agency, the native/nonnative dichotomy, and English Classes in English in Japanese high schools. Teacher designed high stakes English language testing: washback and impact. This book will appeal to researchers across all sectors of education, in particular key stakeholders in curriculum and language planning. Those interested in the latest development of English language teaching will also find this book a valuable resource.

The Artist and Academia Helen Phelan, Graham F. Welch, 2021-03-29 The Artist and Academia explores the relationship between artistic and academic ways of knowing. Historically, these have often been presented as opposites: the former characterized as passionate and intuitive, and the latter portrayed as systematic and rigorous. Recent scholarship presents a more complex picture. Artistic knowledge demands high levels of skill and rigor, while academic research requires creativity and innovative thinking. This edited collection brings together leading artists and scholars, as well as artist-scholars, to offer a variety of philosophical, educational, experiential, reflexive, and imaginative perspectives on the artist and academia. The contributions include in-depth scholarly discussions on the nature of knowledge and creativity, as well as personal artistic statements from musicians, dancers, actors, and writers. Additionally, it explores both the mediational and subversive spaces created by the meeting of artistic and academic traditions. While the book addresses global themes by global writers, its core case study is an educational experiment called the Irish World Academy of Music and Dance at the University of Limerick in Ireland. Established in 1994, it set out to reconfigure the place of the artist in the context of contemporary higher education. The material is clustered into three parts Part One and Part Two explore the artist as mediator educator and subversive in academia Grounded in close to practice research Part Three concludes the volume with a set of case studies from the Irish World Academy Artistic and academic knowledge come together in this unique set of pieces to explore the development of more inclusive and imaginative pedagogical values

The Power of Human Rights/The Human Rights of Power Louiza Odysseos, Anna Selmeczi, 2018-10-11 The contributions to this volume eschew the long held approach of either dismissing human rights as politically compromised or glorifying them as a priori progressive in enabling resistance Drawing on plural social theoretic and philosophical literatures and a multiplicity of empirical domains they illuminate the multi layered and intricate relationship of human rights and power They highlight human rights incitement of new subjects and modes of political action marked by an often unnoticed duality and indeterminacy Epistemologically distancing themselves from purely deductive theory driven approaches the contributors explore these linkages through historically specific rights struggles This in turn substantiates the commitment to avoid reifying the Third World as merely the terrain of fieldwork proposing it instead as a legitimate and necessary site of theorising This book was originally published as a special issue of Third World Quarterly

Justice on the Cross Kathleen Christison, 2023-03-09 At its heart liberation theology is a modern theology of resistance to the oppression imposed by colonialist and post colonialist systems and even by churches that cooperate with secular centers of power to oppress the poor and disadvantaged It is a grassroots social justice theology a cri de c ur that seeks to give spiritual succor and hope to those living in seemingly hopeless circumstances Palestinians a people whose suffering has largely been forgotten by the world since Israel s establishment and who are most often stereotyped as extremists and enemies of Israel with no legitimate claim to their own homeland are among the world s most marginalized populations The small Palestinian Christian community an indigenous population descended from Jesus s first followers has created a liberation theology for the Palestinian context that reaches out to its own Christian faithful and their Muslim compatriots This is a nonviolent political theological resistance that follows Jesus s teaching that God is present with all God s children and heeds Jesus s gospel injunctions to comfort the suffering and let the oppressed go free For Palestinians their very survival in the land is resistance to Israel s efforts to remove them and liberation theology sustains their resistance Jesus was the first liberation theologian international relations to look at whether the U S legal system is contributing to the country s long postwar decline The book provides a comprehensive overview of the interactions between economics and the law in such areas as corruption business regulation and federalism and explains how our system works differently from the one in most countries with contradictory and hard to understand business regulations tort laws that vary from state to state and surprising judicial interpretations of clearly written contracts This imposes far heavier litigation costs on American companies and hampers economic growth div

Asian English Myles Chilton, Steve Clark, Yukari Yoshihara, 2022-01-24 Contesting the idea that the study of Anglophone literature and literary studies is simply a foreign import in Asia this collection addresses the genealogies of textual critique and institutionalized forms of teaching of English language and literature in Asia through the 19th and 20th centuries along with an examination of how its present options and possible future directions relate to these historical contexts It argues that the establishment of Anglophone literature in Asia did not simply happen there were extra literary and academic forces at work inserting and domesticating in Asian universities both the English language and Anglo American literature and their attendant cultural and political values Offering new perspectives for ongoing conversations surrounding the globalization of Anglophone literature in literary and cultural studies the book also considers the practicalities of teaching both the language and its canon of classic texts and that the historical formation and shape of English studies in Asia offers lessons that relate not only to the discipline but also may be applied to the humanities as a whole

Irish Economic Development Eoin O'Leary, 2015-02-20 This book offers a discerning narrative on the spectacular rise and fall of the so called Celtic Tiger economy It depicts Ireland as a micro state with a unique reliance on foreign assisted businesses driven in part by a favourable taxation regime It shows that rent seeking by trades unions and property developers contributed to the fall since 2002 Although the country's highly centralized government's pre disposition to lobbying has yielded international successes it has also resulted in recurring self inflicted crises since 1970 This volume shows how Ireland's export led growth is associated more with the attraction of foreign assisted businesses than with the development of critical masses of internationally competitive indigenous businesses Although the success of foreign assisted businesses in the pharmaceutical ICT and finance sectors has been influenced by tax advantages many of these businesses have been involved in highly productive activity in Ireland over a number of decades The problem of rent seeking is shown to have undermined Irish competitiveness in the internationally traded and sheltered sectors The Irish policy mind set is shown to lean towards distribution rather than growth While this has been advantageous for how Ireland Inc interacts with other governments and international businesses it has also resulted in a failure to resist the destructive effects of capture by lobbies In conclusion this book considers future opportunities offered by the EU's smart specialization policy and future threats from increased international tax competition It argues that unless Irish citizens and policymakers change deep seated attitudes and mind sets towards business development the country's performance for the next number of decades will more likely resemble serial under achievement than that of a high performing EU state Defying the Law of the Land Brian Casey, 2013-08-01
