Rebellion Allyson Field, Jan-Christopher Horak, Jacqueline Najuma Stewart, 2015-11-13 L A Rebellion Creating a New Black Cinema is the first book dedicated to the films and filmmakers of the L A Rebellion a group of African Caribbean and African American independent film and video artists that formed at the University of California Los Angeles in the 1970s and 1980s The group including Charles Burnett Julie Dash Haile Gerima Billy Woodberry Jamaa Fanaka and Zeinabu irene Davis shared a desire to create alternatives to the dominant modes of narrative style and practice in American cinema works that reflected the full complexity of Black experiences This landmark collection of essays and oral histories examines the creative output of the L A Rebellion contextualizing the group's film practices and offering sustained analyses of the wide range of works with particular attention to newly discovered films and lesser known filmmakers Based on extensive archival work and preservation this collection includes a complete filmography of the movement over 100 illustrations most of which are previously unpublished and a bibliography of primary and secondary materials This is an indispensable sourcebook for scholars and enthusiasts establishing the key role played by the L A Rebellion within the histories of cinema Black visual culture and postwar art in Los Angeles What Women Watched Marsha F. Cassidy, 2009-04-20 In this pathfinding book based on original archival research Marsha F Cassidy offers the first thorough analysis of daytime television's earliest and most significant women's genres appraising from a feminist perspective what women watched before soap opera rose to prominence After providing a comprehensive history of the early days of women's programming across the nation Cassidy offers a critical discussion of the formats programs and celebrities that launched daytime TV in America Kate Smith's variety show and the famed singer's unsuccessful transition from patriotic radio star to 1950s TV idol the charm boys Garry Moore Arthur Godfrey and Art Linkletter whose programs honored women's participation but in the process established the dominance of male hosts on TV and the misery shows Strike It Rich and Glamour Girl and the controversy both critical and legal they stirred up Cassidy then turns to NBC's Home show starring the urbane Arlene Francis who infused the homemaking format with Manhattan sophistication and the ambitious daily anthology drama Matinee Theater which strove to differentiate itself from soap opera and become a national theater of the air She concludes with an analysis of four popular audience participation shows of the era the runaway hit Queen for a Day Ralph Edwards's daytime show of surprises It Could Be You Who Do You Trust starring a youthful Johnny Carson and The Big Payoff featuring Bess Myerson the country's first Jewish Miss America Cassidy's close feminist reading of these shows clearly demonstrates how daytime TV mirrored the cultural pressures inconsistencies and ambiguities of the postwar era Live Cinema Sarah Atkinson, Helen W.
