Singh, Anuja Jayaraman, 2014 The present Maharashtra Human Development Report MHDR 2012 keeps the spirit of the Eleventh and Twelfth Five Year Plans of faster sustainable and more inclusive growth at the core of its analysis MHDR 2002 was the state's first effort in focusing on the prevailing human development scenario in the spheres of growth poverty equity education health and nutrition Since then the state has come a long way in the last decade achieving near complete enrolments at the primary school level a wide coverage of health infrastructure and initiation of new incentives to name a few The 2012 Report goes beyond being just a situation analysis of the current human development scenario to a more analytical exercise in facilitating a deeper understanding of what and where the inequalities are how capabilities can be enhanced what has been the progress where the shortfalls are and where the thrust of efforts to promote human development should be Recognizing the centrality of inclusive growth processes to human development the need to study human development outcomes disaggregated by gender rural urban regional and social groups is the focal point of this Report The outcome would be the identification of specific human development goals evidence based policy recommendations and directions to how those excluded from the growth and human development processes can be included to reap the benefits of the same Human Development and Global Institutions Richard Ponzio, Arunabha Ghosh, 2016-02-05

This book provides a timely and accessible introduction to the foundational ideas associated with the human development school of thought It examines its conceptual evolution during the post colonial era and discusses how various institutions of the UN system have tried to engage with this issue both in terms of intellectual and technical advance and operationally Showing that human development has had a profound impact on shaping the policy agenda and programming priorities of global institutions it argues that human development has helped to preserve the continued vitality of major multilateral development programs funds and agencies It also details how human development faces new risks and threats caused by political economic social and environmental forces which are highlighted in a series of engaging case studies on trade water energy the environment democracy human rights and peacebuilding The book also makes the case for why human development remains relevant in an increasingly globalized world while asking whether global institutions will be able to sustain political and moral support from their member states and powerful non state actors It argues that fresh new perspectives on human development are now urgently needed to fill critical gaps across borders and entire regions A positive forward looking agenda for the future of global governance would have to engage with new issues such as the Sustainable Development Goals energy transitions resource scarcity and expansion of democratic governance within and between nations Redefining the overall nature and specific characteristics of what constitutes human progress in an increasingly integrated and interdependent world this book serves as a primer for scholars and graduate students of international relations and development It is also relevant to scholars of economics political science history sociology and women s studies

Deconstructing the Dynamics of World-Societal Order Jan Busse,2017-11-23 To get a better sense of power dynamics in global politics this book presents an innovative theoretical framework combining a critical engagement with and further development of Michel Foucault s governmentality on the one hand and the theory of world society of the Stanford School of Sociology on the other Making an original contribution to academic debates about power and global political order this book develops a comprehensive theoretical perspective on power relations and political dynamics The book starts from the presupposition that any theoretical engagement of that kind requires nuanced empirical study as well It therefore analyzes the dynamics of world societal order in the concrete empirical example of Palestine and raises the question of how its political and societal order comes into existence The author argues that governmentality represents a fundamental pattern of political order in world society that also profoundly affects power dynamics in Palestine This insight has two important implications First power relations do not follow dichotomous distinctions such as international domestic or global local but manifest themselves within world society Second therefore order that comes into existence in Palestine needs to be understood as world societal order Offering a comprehensive understanding of power relations and patterns of political order ing embedded in world society the book provides a deeper understanding of the complex dynamics that contribute to the political and societal order of Palestine This book will be of interest to scholars and students of Middle East Studies Palestine Studies International Relations International Political Sociology International Relations Theory Governmentality Studies and Political Theory

Globalization and Environmental Challenges Hans Günter Brauch,Úrsula Oswald Spring,Czeslaw Mesjasz,John Grin,Pál Dunay,Navnita Chadha Behera,Béchir Chourou,Patricia Kameri-Mbote,P. H. Liotta,2008-01-23 Put quite simply the twin impacts of globalization and environmental degradation pose new security dangers and concerns In this new work on global security thinking 91 authors from five continents and many disciplines from science and practice assess the worldwide reassessment of the meaning of security triggered by the end of the Cold War and globalization as well as the multifarious impacts of global environmental change in the early 21st century Sustainable Development in Crisis Conditions Phillip J.

Cooper, Claudia María Vargas, 2008 Sustainable Development in Crisis Conditions takes a broad based and integrative approach to exploring nation building and reconstruction in the wake of environmentally destructive warfare Freedom from Poverty as a Human Right Thomas Pogge, 2007 Collected here are fifteen essays about the severe poverty that today afflicts billions of human lives The essays seek to explain why freedom from poverty is a human right and what duties this right creates for the affluent This volume derives from a UNESCO philosophy program organized in response to the first of the Millennium Development Goals MDGs adopted by the United Nations General Assembly in 2000 to eradicate extreme poverty and hunger Publisher's description Global Political Economy Robert O'Brien, Marc Williams, 2013-06-14 This text provides a broad ranging historical account of the emergence of a worldwide economy since the 15th century combined with a systematic analysis of the key frameworks of international political economy today Facing Global Environmental Change Hans Günter Brauch, Navnita Chadha Behera, Patricia Kameri-Mbote, John Grin, Úrsula Oswald Spring, Béchir Chourou, Czesław Mesjasz, Heinz Krummenacher, 2009-06-04 The year 2007 could perhaps accurately be described as the year when climate change finally received the attention that this challenge deserves globally Much of the information and knowledge that was created in this field during the year was the result of the findings of the Fourth session Report AR4 of the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change IPCC which were disseminated on a large scale and reported extensively by the media This was the result not only of a heightened interest on the part of the public on various aspects of climate change but also because the IPCC itself proactively attempted to spread the findings of its AR4 to the public at large The interest generated on the scientific realities of climate change was further enhanced by the award of the Nobel Peace Prize to the IPCC and former Vice President of the US Al Gore By taking this decision in favour of a leader who has done a great deal to create awareness on climate change and a body that assesses all scientific aspects of climate change and disseminates the result of its findings the Norwegian Nobel Committee has clearly drawn the link between climate change and peace in the world Human Security, Law and the Prevention of Terrorism Andrej Zwitter, 2010-11-23 This study examines two important questions regarding terrorism and political violence which threats to human security constitute root causes for collective violence and which adequate responses for these root causes are available to the international community The responses are examined on the basis of international law in particular human rights law and within the concept of human security with the goal of fostering a long term reduction in political violence Drawing on existing political discussions and research about the root causes of terrorism Zwitter develops a legal framework for the application of legal terrorism prevention tools This study serves as a framework of action and analysis using concepts and particularly legal frameworks which are already broadly or universally recognized to increase the applicability of the framework without having to invent new legal regimes In doing so it makes use of the concept of human security for tackling breeding grounds and other facilitators of terrorism making it universally accessible Combining social science research with legal sociology and international law this book will be of interest to students and scholars of politics international relations security studies conflict studies and law Arab Human Development in the Twenty-first Century Bahgat Korany, 2014-10-01 With its emphasis on the primacy of change this study arrives at a particularly auspicious moment as the Middle East continues to be convulsed by the greatest upheavals in generations which have come to be known as the Arab Spring Originally prepared as the tenth anniversary volume of the UNDP's Arab Human Development Report Arab Human Development in the Twenty first Century places empowerment at the center of human development in the Arab world viewing it not only from the vantage point of a more equitable distribution of economic resources but also of fundamental legal educational and political reform The ten chapters in this book follow closely this political economy framework They look back at what Arab countries have achieved since the early 2000s and forward to what remains to be done to reach full development Supported by a wealth of statistical material they cover the rule of law the evolution of media the persistence of corruption the draining of resources through armed conflict the dominance and increase of poverty the environment and religious education The concluding chapter attempts an inventory of the world literature and different experiences on democratic transition to explore where the region could be heading This critical and timely study is indispensable reading to development specialists and to Middle East scholars and students alike as well as to anyone with an interest in the future trajectory of the region Cultures and Globalization Helmut K Anheier, Yudhishtir Raj Isar, 2007-03-27 In the age of globalization we are no longer home alone Migration brings other worlds into our own just as the global reach of the media transmits our world into the hearts and minds of others Often incommensurate values are crammed together in the same public square Increasingly we all today live in the kind of edge cultures we used to see only on the frontiers of civilizations in places like Hong Kong or Istanbul The resulting frictions and fusions are shaping the soul of the coming world order I can think of no other project with the ambitious scope of defining this emergent reality than The Cultures and Globalization project I can think of no more capable minds than Raj Isar and Helmut Anheier who can pull it off Nathan Gardels Editor in Chief NPQ Global Services Los Angeles Times Syndicate Tribune Media This series represents an innovative approach to the central issues of globalization that phenomenon of such undefined contours Lupwishi Mbuyumba Director of the Observatory of Cultural Policies in Africa The world's cultures and their forms of creation presentation and preservation are deeply affected by globalization in ways that are inadequately documented and understood The Cultures and Globalization Series is designed to fill this void in our knowledge Analyzing the relationship between globalization and cultures is the aim of the Series In each volume leading experts as well as young scholars will track cultural trends connected to globalization throughout the world covering issues ranging from the role of cultural difference in politics and governance to the evolution of the cultural economy and the changing patterns of creativity and artistic expression Each volume will also include an innovative presentation of newly developed indicator suites on cultures and globalization that will be presented in a user friendly form with a high graphics content to facilitate accessibility and understanding Like so many phenomena linked to globalization conflicts over and within the cultural realms crystallize great anxieties and illusions through misplaced assumptions inadequate concepts unwarranted simplifications and instrumental readings The aim here is to marshal evidence from different disciplines and perspectives about the culture conflict and globalization relationships in conceptually sensitive ways

Privatizing Water Karen Bakker, 2013-02-15 Water supply privatization was emblematic of the neoliberal turn in development policy in the 1990s Proponents argued that the private sector could provide better services at lower costs than governments opponents questioned the risks involved in delegating control over a life sustaining resource to for profit companies Private sector activity was most concentrated and contested in large cities in developing countries where the widespread lack of access to networked water supplies was characterized as a global crisis In Privatizing Water Karen Bakker focuses on three questions Why did privatization emerge as a preferred alternative for managing urban water supply Can privatization fulfill its proponents expectations particularly with respect to water supply to the urban poor And given the apparent shortcomings of both privatization and conventional approaches to government provision what are the alternatives In answering these questions Bakker engages with broader debates over the role of the private sector in development the role of urban communities in the provision of public services and the governance of public goods She introduces the concept of governance failure as a means of exploring the limitations facing both private companies and governments Critically examining a range of issues including the transnational struggle over the human right to water the commons as a water supply management strategy and the environmental dimensions of water privatization Privatizing Water is a balanced exploration of a critical issue that affects billions of people around the world

Ethics of Global Development David A. Crocker, 2008-07-10 Poverty inequality violence environmental degradation and tyranny continue to afflict the world Ethics of Global Development offers a moral reflection on the ends and means of local national and global efforts to overcome these five scourges After emphasizing the role of ethics in development studies policy making and practice David A Crocker analyzes and evaluates Amartya Sen s philosophy of development in relation to alternative ethical outlooks He argues that Sen s turn to robust ideals of human agency and democracy improves on both Sen s earlier emphasis on capabilities and functionings and Martha

Nussbaum's version of the capability orientation This agency focused capability approach is then extended and strengthened by applying it to the challenges of consumerism and hunger the development responsibilities of affluent individuals and nations and the dilemmas of globalization Throughout the book the author argues for the importance of more inclusive and deliberative democratic institutions
