Choosing Nursing Cathy Poole, 2015-04-10 Becoming a nurse is a life-changing process and making the decision to study nursing at university is the first step. This short guide will help you decide whether it is the right move for you, give you an idea of which field of nursing might suit you best, and provide useful tips for making a successful application. Outlining the academic and clinical support that students can expect during their study, the stresses that they may face, how placements work, and the role of the NMC for student nurses, this book includes a wide range of testimonials from nursing students as well as practising nurses. Most importantly, it shows what is unique about each of the different fields, which include children's nursing, adult nursing, mental health nursing, learning disability, and defence nursing. It also looks at what all of these areas have in common, what makes nursing nursing, and what makes nursing special. With a final section looking to the future with tips for getting your first job and highlighting nursing opportunities around the globe, this is the must-have no-nonsense career advice book for all those considering nursing as a career option or waiting to start their nursing course, or indeed for those nurses who are wishing to return to the nursing profession.

Thinking Skills Assessment Neel Burton, 2014-10-20 This book written by an Oxford tutor and writer covers all aspects of the Thinking Skills Assessment TSA including problem solving critical thinking and the writing task It should also prove useful for other aptitude tests such as the BioMedical Admissions Test BMAT The TSA is an admission test for an increasing number of courses at an increasing number of universities including and originally Oxford and Cambridge The emphasis of the TSA is very much on thinking skills and the amount of knowledge required is minimal This means that the best way to prepare is to develop your thinking skills by working through a large number of TSA style questions and the bulk of this book consists of three full length mock papers each followed by detailed explanations of the answers You should look upon the TSA not only as a means to stand out from your competition but also and indeed mostly as an opportunity to hone your thinking skills which are going to be far more important to your future impact and wellbeing than any facts that you could ever learn As BF Skinner once put it Education is what survives when what has been learnt has been forgotten e Environmental Publics Sally Eden, 2016-12-08 How do ordinary people think about the environment as they go about their daily lives Does thinking about the environment make them do things differently This book is the first to explore the idea of environmental publics that is the ways in which ordinary people engage with environmental issues across different practical contexts of work play and home Emphasising the practices of environmental engagement Environmental Publics examines how people consume the environment learn about it campaign for its protection and enjoy it through their leisure time But the book avoids relying on idealisations of consumers or citizens or theoretical constructs about behavioural norms that have traditionally dominated research in this field Instead this book differentiates environmental publics not by who they are but by what they are doing their daily practices It also analyses specifically the geographies of those practices how what people do affects the environment but in different ways across time and space and at different scales aspects of practices that are neglected in the literature With an interdisciplinary perspective this book will be of interest to students and scholars in geography sociology science and technology studies political science and anthropology It is written in an accessible and readable style so as to be useful for preliminary and more advanced courses in environmental management perception and policy as well as in studies of modern society consumption and environmentalism

Higher Education Institutions in the EU: Between Competition and Public Service Andrea Gideon, 2017-02-05 This book investigates the impact of EU law and policy on the Member States higher education institution HEI sectors with a particular emphasis on the exposure of research in universities to EU competition law It illustrates how the gradual application of EU economic law to HEIs which were predominantly identified as being within the public sector creates tensions between the economic and the social spheres in the EU Given the reluctance of the Member States to openly develop an EU level HEI policy these tensions appear as unintended consequences of the traditional application of the EU Treaty provisions in areas such as Union Citizenship the free movement provisions and competition policy to the HEI sector These developments may endanger the traditional non economic mission of European HEIs In this respect the effects of Union Citizenship and free movement law on HEIs have received some attention but the impact of EU competition law constitutes a largely unexplored area of research and this book redresses that imbalance The aim of the research is to show that intended and unintended consequences of the EU economic constitution s are enhanced by a parallel tendency of Member States to commercialise formerly public sectors such as the HEI sector The book investigates the potential tensions through doctrinal analysis and a qualitative study focussing on the exposure of HEI research to EU competition law as an under researched example of exposure to economic constraints It concludes that such exposure may compromise the wider aims that research intensive universities pursue in the public interest Andrea Gideon is a Postdoctoral Research Fellow at the Centre for Law Business National University of Singapore for which she has suspended her position as Lecturer in Law at the University of Liverpool In her current project she is investigating the application of competition law to public services in ASEAN Her previous research concerned tensions between the economic and the social in the EU with a focus on EU competition law in which research area she earned her PhD at the University of Leeds in 2014
