A Century of South African Theatre Loren Kruger, 2019-11-28 Theatre is not part of our vocabulary Sipho Sepamla's provocation in 1981 the year of famous anti-apartheid play Woza Albert prompts the response yes indeed it is A Century of South African Theatre demonstrates the impact of theatre and other performances pageants concerts sketches workshops and performance art over the last hundred years Its coverage includes African responses to pro British pageants celebrating white Union in 1910 such as the Emancipation Centenary of the abolition of British colonial slavery in 1934 organized by Griffiths Motsieloa and HIE Dhlomo through anti-apartheid testimonial theatre by Athol Fugard Maishe Maponya Gcina Mhlophe and many others right up to the present dramatization of state capture inequality and state violence in today's unevenly democratic society where government has promised much but delivered little Building on Loren Kruger's personal observations of forty years as well as her published research A Century of South African Theatre provides theoretical coordinates from institution to public sphere to syncretism in performance in order to highlight South Africa's changing engagement with the world from the days of Empire through the apartheid era to the multi lateral and multi lingual networks of the 21st century The final chapters use the Constitution's injunction to improve wellbeing as a prompt to examine the dramaturgy of new problems especially AIDS and domestic violence as well as the better known performances in and around the Truth and Reconciliation Commission Kruger critically evaluates internationally known theatre makers including the signature collaborations between animator designer William Kentridge and Handspring Puppet Company and highlights the local and transnational impact of major post-apartheid companies such as Magnet Theatre

Rethinking Khoe and San Indigeneity, Language and Culture in Southern Africa Julie Grant, Keyan G. Tomaselli, 2022-09-19 The San hunter gatherers and Khoe herders of southern Africa were dispossessed of their land before during and after the European colonial period which started in 1652 They were often enslaved and forbidden from practicing their culture and speaking their languages In South Africa under apartheid after 1948 they were reclassified as Coloured which further undermined Khoe and San culture forcing them to reconfigure and realign their identities and loyalties Southern Africa is no longer under colonial or apartheid rule the San and Khoe however continue in the struggle to maintain the remnants of their languages and cultures and are marginalised by the dominant peoples of the region The San in particular continue to command very extensive research attention from a variety of disciplines from anthropology and linguistics to genetics They are however usually studied as static historical objects but they are not merely peoples of the past as is often assumed they are very much alive in contemporary society with cultural and language needs This book brings together studies from a range of disciplines to examine what it means to be Indigenous Khoe and San in contemporary southern Africa It considers the current constraints on Khoe and San identity language and culture constantly negotiating an indeterminate social positioning where they are treated as the inconvenient indigenous Usually studied as original anthropos but out of their time this book shifts attention from the past to the present and how the San have negotiated language literacy and identity for coping in the period of modernity It reveals that Afrikaans is indeed an African language incubated not only by Cape Malay slaves working in the kitchens of the early Dutch settlers but also by the Khoe and San who interacted with sailors from passing ships plying the West coast of southern Africa from the 14th century The book re-examines the idea of literacy its relationship to language and how these shape identity The chapters in this book were originally published in the journal Critical Arts South North Cultural and Media Studies Advances in Nature and Biologically Inspired Computing Nelishia Pillay, Andries P. Engelbrecht, Ajith Abraham, Mathys C. du Plessis, Václav Snášel, Azah Kamilah Muda, 2015-12-01 World Congress on Nature and Biologically Inspired Computing NaBIC is organized to discuss the state of the art as well as to address various issues with respect to Nurturing Intelligent Computing Towards Advancement of Machine Intelligence This Volume contains the papers presented in the Seventh World Congress NaBIC 15 held in Pietermaritzburg South Africa during December 01-03 2015 The 39 papers presented in this Volume were carefully reviewed and selected The Volume would be a valuable reference to researchers students and practitioners in the computational intelligence field Yearbook of International Organizations 2014-2015 (Volume 3) Union Of International Associations, Union of International Associations, 2014-08-20 The Yearbook of International Organizations provides the most extensive coverage of non-profit international organizations currently available Detailed profiles of international non-governmental and intergovernmental organizations IGO collected and documented by the Union of International Associations can be found here In addition to the history aims and activities of international organizations with their events publications and contact details the volumes of the Yearbook include networks between associations biographies of key people involved and extensive statistical data Volume 3 allows readers to locate organizations by subjects or by fields of activity and specialization and includes an index to Volumes 1 through 3 SDGs in Africa and the Middle East Region Ismaila Rimi Abubakar, Izael da Silva, Rudi Pretorius, Khaled Tarabieh, 2024-09-01 Africa is one of the most vulnerable regions and one where the implementation of the SDGs is particularly urgent Underinvestments in natural conservation are increasing the vulnerability of people across many African countries whose well-being is endangered by deteriorating socio-economic and environmental conditions This volume provides a contribution towards showcasing how natural resources may be more efficiently used and investments may be mobilised to augment the limited public sector funds available to achieve the SDGs This book is part of the 100 papers to accelerate the implementation of the UN Sustainable Development Goals initiative

An African Research Ethics Reader, 2024-06-11 Cultural research ethics is in a nascent phase within the field of research ethics as a whole and requires more attention and in depth articulation With specific case studies this vital volume provides unique perspectives on topics such as social autonomy vis a vis interests of individuals This volume assembles needed resources and case studies in cultural research ethics practices providing insight into current developments and future research directions It is a valuable contribution to cultural research ethics given the dearth of published literature available in this emerging field It is designed with two broad audiences in mind 1 African researchers and research organizations that want homegrown guidance about research ethics and 2 research ethicists worldwide who can use it to learn about cultural research ethics especially with respect to Africa

Social Media and Everyday Life in South Africa Tanja E Bosch, 2020-11-22 This book explores how social media is used in South Africa through a range of case studies exploring various social networking sites and applications This volume explores how over the past decade social media platforms have deeply penetrated the fabric of everyday life The author considers South Africans use of wearable tech and use of online health and sports tracking systems via mobile phones within the broader context of the digital data economy The author also focuses on the dating app Tinder to show how people negotiate and redefine intimacy through the practice of online dating via strategic performances in pursuit of love sex and intimacy The book concludes with the use of Facebook and Twitter for social activism e g Fees Must Fall as well as networked community building as in the case of the imstaying movement This book will be of interest to social media academics and students as well as anyone interested in social media politics and cultural life in South Africa

Expanding Approaches to Bible Translation James A. Maxey, 2025-05-22 The assertion in this book included within the BPC series is that translation is as fundamental to biblical material as performance both in its history as well as in its research approaches Translation in this sense is more than a transferal of meaning from one linguistic system to another Bible translation highlights innovative connections and conceptions to biblical texts in their promulgation reception and ever changing nature A predominant theory used throughout this book is social semiotic multimodality This communication theory informs an approach to translation that expands beyond words to other semiotic resources Sign Language embodied performance social media theater materiality and many other types of multimodal communications inform translation It is important to understand that the Bible is a translated experience Translation reflects the various ways in which the Bible has been mediated and appropriated throughout history It follows therefore that Bible translation as a global activity has been and continues to be influenced by the political and economic flows of history Race class ethnicity gender sexual orientation and other elements of our social locations directly influence the enterprise and results of Bible translation
