Accounting Education for the 21st Century Jane O. Burns, Belverd E. Needles, 2014-06-28 Accounting practice, whether in business or government, is more dynamic, more complex, and addresses a wider array of issues than it did as little as five years ago. Significant and rapid social, political, technological, and economic changes are taking place in the world economy, and it is increasingly recognised that accountants in all countries play a key role in the process of economic development. Accounting education is undergoing a thorough review on a worldwide basis, and major developments are taking place to produce quality accounting education that can keep pace with dramatic world change. This book provides an up-to-date view of the state of accounting education throughout the world and focusses on the global challenges facing accounting education as we approach the millennium. Understanding and Solving Environmental Problems in the 21st Century R. Costanza, S.E. Jorgensen, 2002-06-05 The aim of this book is to encourage integration of the natural and social sciences with the policy and design-making community and thereby develop a deeper understanding of complex environmental problems. Its fundamental themes are integrated modeling and assessment, complex adaptive hierarchical systems, ecosystem services, science and decision-making, ecosystem health and human health, quality of life, and the distribution of wealth and resources. This book will act as a state-of-the-art assessment of integrated environmental science and its relation to real-world problem-solving. It is aimed not only at the academic community but also as a sourcebook for managers, policy makers, and the informed public. It deals both with the state of the science and the level of consensus among scientists on key environmental issues. The concepts underlying this book were developed at the 2nd EcoSummit workshop held in Halifax, Nova Scotia, June 2000, with active participation from
