

Monologue

(Curtains open to An Unknown Character standing on an empty center stage)

Unknown Figure

You know, I'm kinda sick of it. The pain. The hurt. The sorrow. 'The world is changing' so they say- but what do I have to do with it? Where will I ever come into the picture? Don't give me the 'Oh, everyone matters!' crap either. Because I don't matter. The question is, does anyone? Sure, maybe Einstein or some world-changing soul, but I'm not either. I'm 'just a teenager'. No one listens 'cos 'my body is going through some changes, hormones and crap' they tell me. I think it's because they are scared we're right and we aren't them. But the thing is, it's always the same for me: wake up, shower, get ready eat, go to school, come home, eat, go to bed, repeat. Where's the world changing in that? What do I have to lose? What does anyone have to lose? Romance maybe, but I've been told I'll never find anyone. No one will miss me. Maybe for a month, but they will forget me. The world will keep going. The end. My best of wishes. Goodbye.

Refusals and Reflections, 2024-11-04 Though qualitative research methods shape scholarship around the globe, and institutions worldwide offer qualitative coursework, there is very little explicit discussion on how to effectively teach qualitative research. Instead, a standard approach is for instructors to gain in-depth expertise in qualitative methodologies with little or no pedagogical training. The effect is a continuous and nearly exclusive emphasis on content knowledge that undermines the preparation of novice researchers, as both teachers and learners. This book works to fill that gap by offering perspectives, strategies, and applications from instructor and student perspectives based on a semester-long class emphasizing social justice in qualitative research. This edited volume offers sections on pedagogical strategies, students' responses to, and applications of those concepts, and then instructor reflections. The goal is to offer an important starting point for explicit discussions on how qualitative research might be taught and learned, in addition to how it might be thoughtfully and ethically conducted.
