US Strategy in Africa David J Francis,2010-02-25 This book outlines the construction interpretations and understanding of US strategy towards Africa in the early twenty first century No single issue or event in the recent decades in Africa has provoked so much controversy and unified hostility and opposition as the announcement by former President George W Bush of the establishment of the United States Africa Command AFRICOM The intensity and sheer scale of the unprecedented unity of opposition to AFRICOM across Africa surprised many experts and lead them to ask why such a hostile reaction occurred This book explores the conception of AFRICOM and the subsequent reaction in two ways Firstly the contributors critically engage with the creation and global imperatives for the establishment of AFRICOM and present an analytical outline of African security in relation to and within the context of the history of US foreign and security policy approaches to Africa Secondly the book has original chapter contributions by some of the key actors involved in the development and implementation of the AFRICOM project including Theresa Whelan the former US Deputy Assistant Secretary for African Affairs This is not only an attempt to contribute to the academic and policy relevant debates based on the views of those who are intimately involved in the design and implementation of the AFRICOM project but also to show in their own words that America has no clandestine agenda for Africa This book will be of interest to students of US foreign policy national security strategic studies international security and African politics David J Francis is Chair of African Peace Conflict Studies in the Department of Peace Studies at the University of Bradford

The New US Strategy towards Asia William T Tow,Douglas Stuart,2014-12-17 Barack Obama s rebalancing or pivot strategy intended to demonstrate continued US commitment to the Asia Pacific region in a variety of military economic and diplomatic contexts was launched with much fanfare in 2011 Implicit in the new strategy is both a focus on China engagement with and containment of and a heavy reliance by the United States on its existing friends and allies in the region in order to implement its strategy This book explores the impact of the new strategy on America s regional friends and allies It shows how these governments are working with Washington to advance and protect their distinct national interests while at the same time avoiding any direct confrontation with China It also addresses the reasons why many of these regional actors harbour concerns about the ability of the US to sustain the pivot strategy in the long run Overall the book illustrates the deep complexities of the United States exercise of power and influence in the region

Invigorating Defense Governance Kathleen H. Hicks, 2008 The Art of Peace Juliana Geran Pilon, 2017-07-05 Sun Tzu author of The Art of War believed that the acme of leadership consists in figuring out how to subdue the enemy with the least amount of fighting a fact that America s Founders also understood and practiced with astonishing success For it to work however a people must possess both the ability and the willingness to use all available instruments of power in peace as much as in war US foreign policy has increasingly neglected the instruments of civilian power and become overly dependent on lethal solutions to conflict The steep rise in unconventional conflict has increased the need for diplomatic and other non hard power tools of statecraft The United States can no longer afford to sit on the proverbial three legged national security stool military diplomacy development where one leg is a lot longer than either of the other two almost forgetting altogether the fourth leg information especially strategic communication and public diplomacy The United States isn t so much becoming militarized as DE civilianized According to Sun Tzu self knowledge is as important as knowledge of one s enemy if you know neither yourself nor the enemy you will succumb in every battle Alarminglly the United States is deficient on both counts And though we can stand to lose a few battles the stakes of losing the war itself in this age of nuclear proliferation are too high to contemplate China Agenda Setting in South Asia: Skills of Smart Power Sudip Pandit, 2019-09-17
