Subliminally Exposed Steven Dayan, 2020-12-31 The New York Times bestseller that explores the primitive world of human programming as it pertains to beauty culture and evolution Beauty is raw powerful and often dangerous but when refined harnessed and mastered it can be incredibly influential Just as there is a good reason why all humans find sugar to be sweet and a growling beast intimidating there is an evolutionary logic to why our appearances allow us to communicate and manipulate each other at a subconscious level Who you choose to mate befriend or work with often pivots on a few critical yet subliminal decisions made within a fraction of a second The human brain has been evolving over 3.5 million years and our thoughts behaviors and actions are rooted in a system that is evolutionary adaptive and unencumbered by political social or religious constraints Evolution only cares about one thing survival of our genes Subliminally Exposed will reveal the how and why behind your actions and empower you to decode and translate others' subconscious behaviors Whether it is for political employment or relationship purposes the knowledge and tools gained from the words in this book can be used for betterment or deceit It is your choice Regardless be forewarned The information you are about to read will affect every one of your relationships for better or worse in one way or another

Multisensory Landscapes Lara Koegst, Olaf Kühne, Dennis Edler, 2023-06-21 This book provides a broad view on multisensory landscapes from multiple perspectives It includes theoretical perspectives as well as case studies Different theoretical perspectives on landscape emerging from research in the last decades also require a differentiated approach to landscape phenomena going beyond the visual For example a social constructivist approach to the social world foregrounds the processes of negotiating social realities This is not limited to visual aspects and is not based on a clear physical measurability with an accompanying purely quantitative recording A phenomenological approach for example places the synesthetic experience of landscape at the core of interest This approach to the topic of multisensory via landscape is obvious for several reasons Firstly landscape is created from a constructivist perspective through the synthesis of sensory impressions on the basis of social patterns of interpretation and evaluation Secondly communication about landscape is also accessible to people who do not have any expertlike special knowledge in this regard Thirdly landscape as a changing concept is not only a concept of landscape but also of landscape itself Fourthly landscape as a changeable concept is particularly suitable for conceptually framing the highly fleeting non visual stimuli

Discursive Psychology Cristian Tileagă, Elizabeth Stokoe, 2015-08-27 Discursive Psychology is the first collection to systematically and critically appraise the influence and development of its foundational studies exploring central concepts in social psychology such as attitudes gender cognition memory prejudice and ideology The book explores how discursive psychology has accommodated and responded to assumptions contained in classic studies discussing what can still be gained from a dialogue with these inquiries and which epistemological and methodological debates are still running or are worth reviving International contributors look back at the original ideas in the classic papers and consider the impact on and trajectory of subsequent work Each chapter locates a foundational paper in its academic context identifying the concerns that motivated the author and the particular perspective that informed their thinking The contributors go on to identify the main empirical theoretical or methodological contribution of the paper and its impact on consequent work in discursive psychology including the contributors own work Each chapter concludes with a critical consideration of how discursive psychology can continue to develop This book is a timely contribution to the advance of discursive psychology by fostering critical perspectives upon its intellectual and empirical agenda It will appeal to those working in the area of discursive psychology discourse analysis and social interaction including researchers social psychologists and students

Astrid Reiter, 2005 "The smell of Ujamaa is still there" Daniel Mann, 2017-12-04 Fifty years after the Arusha Declaration this book sets out to reevaluate one of the most important roots of Tanzania's Ujamaa Socialism The Ruvuma Development Association Based on a basic democratic movement of young politicized farmers this organization not only brought together up to 18 cooperative villages in southwestern Tanzania it also became the inspiration for President Nyerere to put his vision of a modern socialist society built on the image of the traditional extended family into a concrete development model on national scale Led by a participative understanding of empirical research this explorative study has analyzed the local history of Ujamaa in three case study villages within Ruvuma Through employing a mix of expert and narrative interviews as well as group interviews and villager questionnaires the study sheds new light on the local perceptions of Ujamaa history and communal development as well as on the interrelations between local and national scale on Tanzania's path of development It identifies the recent farmers groups vikundi as some of the most important heirs to the Nation's socialist ideology and concludes that in many aspects the smell of Ujamaa is still there The Smell of Smoke

Raffaele Mantegazza, 2008 The deportees into Nazi extermination camps charge the Shoa as the unutterable experience of the twentieth century that remains unsurpassed They serve as witnesses of an event that more than any other event cannot be explained or rationalized With this book the author ponders upon this subject addressing in particular those who were born in the world after Auschwitz The author through his analysis of the spatial temporal symbolic and physical structure of the lager pieces together the specific pedagogy of annihilation which was an original Nazi creation He introduces the lager as a pedagogical device that in addition to destroying individuals placed them in a condition of self destruction Searching for traces of that expropriation and liquidation device within modern societies the author finds opportunities of resistance and opposition by individual subjects The Changing Dynamics of Bisexual Men's Lives Eric Anderson, Mark

McCormack, 2016-05-05 This important book provides unique new knowledge on the lived experience of openly bisexual men without medicalizing or pathologizing them Presenting research from sexology sociology and psychology it features extensive findings on the sexual social romantic and emotional behaviors of the 90 men interviewed in the U S and U K Issues and challenges are examined in such areas as identity and self concept along with the burden of social erasure and the paradox of stigma from both the gay and straight communities However the research reveals evidence of a recent cultural transition toward acceptance of bisexual identity and behavior with younger bisexual men experiencing better social lives and increased recognition of the legitimacy of bisexuality Among the topics covered Examining the components of sexuality Measuring and surveying bisexuality Bisexual burden Demonstrating a generational cohort effect Expansion of gendered boundaries Erosion of the one time rule of homosexuality Coming out in the 21st century Bringing clarity and focus beyond the gender binary and compelling insights into why society and science have trouble shedding that paradigm The Changing Dynamics of Bisexual Men s Lives will interest sexuality scholars sexologists and social scientists studying the social aspects of sexuality

Multisensory Imagery Simon Lacey, Rebecca Lawson, 2013-01-19 Is a pear sweeter than a peach Which of Mona Lisa s hands is crossed over the other What would the Moonlight Sonata sound like played by a brass band Although these are questions that appeal to mental imagery in a variety of sensory modalities mental imagery research has been dominated by visual imagery With the emergence of a well established multisensory research community however it is time to look at mental imagery in a wider sensory context Part I of this book provides overviews of unisensory imagery in each sensory modality including motor imagery together with discussions of multisensory and cross modal interactions synesthesia imagery in the blind and following brain damage and methodological considerations Part II reviews the application of mental imagery research in a range of settings including individual differences skilled performance such as sports and surgical training psychopathology and therapy through to stroke rehabilitation This combination of comprehensive coverage of the senses with reviews from both theoretical and applied perspectives not only complements the growing multisensory literature but also responds to recent calls for translational research in the multisensory field

Social Zooarchaeology Nerissa Russell, 2011-11-14 This is the first book to provide a systematic overview of social zooarchaeology which takes a holistic view of human animal relations in the past Until recently archaeological analysis of faunal evidence has primarily focused on the role of animals in the human diet and subsistence economy This book however argues that animals have always played many more roles in human societies as wealth companions spirit helpers sacrificial victims totems centerpieces of feasts objects of taboos and more These social factors are as significant as taphonomic processes in shaping animal bone assemblages Nerissa Russell uses evidence derived from not only zooarchaeology but also ethnography history and classical studies to suggest the range of human animal relationships and to examine their importance in human society Through exploring the significance of animals to ancient humans this book provides a richer picture of past societies

Smell and Taste Richard L. Doty, 2019-11-11 Smell and Taste Volume 164 focuses on recent clinical research regarding two of our primary chemical senses smell and taste This volume is the most comprehensive neurology book on disorders of smell and taste function Its major sections include epidemiology anatomy and physiology and clinical assessment including neuroimaging clinical conditions affecting smell and taste function e g autoimmune disorders head trauma diseases of the nose and mouth etc The widespread use of olfactory testing in clinical trials searching for biomarkers of neurodegenerative diseases is reviewed along with evidence that smell dysfunction can be an early marker in neurodegenerative diseases and autoimmune disorders Covers all aspects of disorders of taste and smell for beginning students of various disciplines neurology psychiatry neuropsychology otolaryngology Teaches that smell and taste testing can be useful in differential diagnosis and can assess brain regions not normally assessed by traditional neurological or neuropsychological tests Addresses in detail recent evidence that smell loss is a better predictor of future mortality than dementia and even heart disease

The Flight of Events German ARCE ROSS,2024-05-31 The Flight of Events the second book of a Psychopathology of Melancholia Series after Manie m lancolie et facteurs blancs Beauchesne Paris 2009 is a work on altruistic anguishes in manic depressive suicides In this book German Arce Ross has chosen to focus on the psychological processes that occur prior to the act of suicide rather than on the act itself We can detect these processes in a subject during the period between the decision to commit suicide and the passage to the act In the consideration of certain moments preceding a suicidal or criminal act in the case of critical episodes that are non delusional non hallucinated and non acted but sometimes assimilated to psychotic or twilight moments where we locate in particular a discontinuity or a radical rupture albeit momentary with the Other we can observe that there are things facts or events that happen to the subject without any form of control over them whatsoever In these uncontrolled intersubjective events what the subject suffers from is a tendency to undergo the acts that he himself makes others perform During this flight of events it is not entirely true that the subject flees the events of his life it is rather the events that flee

Smell and Taste Disorders Christopher H. Hawkes,Richard L. Doty,2018-01-25 Loss of the sense of smell or taste is often a sign of neurological disease Evaluating chemosensation the senses of smell and taste during neurological examination can help early detection of neurodegenerative conditions such as Parkinson s and Alzheimer s disease The importance of such testing is now receiving increasingly high profile in the medical curriculum In this book olfactory conditions are completely updated and the sense of taste is now included in similar detail It is written by experts in the field covering anatomy and physiology of human olfaction and taste how they can be measured and their relevance to a wide range of major disorders such as diabetes kidney disease Alzheimer s and Parkinson s disease The Olfactory Vector Hypothesis that suggests a neuropathogen may enter the nose en route to the brain is evaluated in detail This introduction to smell and taste disorders is an essential guide for neurologists neurosurgeons otolaryngologists medical trainees and chemosensory scientists
