What I Believe Tariq Ramadan:

What I Believe Tariq Ramadan, 2009-10-06 Ramadan in this work lays out the basic ideas he stands for in clear and accessible prose. He describes the book as a work of clarification directed at ordinary citizens, politicians, journalists and others who are curious or skeptical about his positions. Aware that he is dealing with emotional issues, Ramadan tries to get past the barriers of prejudice and misunderstanding to speak directly from the heart to his Muslim and non-Muslim readers alike.

Introduction to Islam Tariq Ramadan, 2017-09-12 From one of the most prominent intellectuals in the Muslim world comes a timely new introduction to one of the world's most practiced and most misunderstood religions. In frank, unapologetic language, Tariq Ramadan walks readers through Islam and its principles, rituals, diversity and evolution. Ramadan, known for his efforts to reform and change the understanding of Islam in the West, avoids ideology and idealism, instead attempting to depict the true meaning of Islam for readers who have no previous experience with the religion. The book is therefore focused on defining the basic principles of Islam and offering an overview of the faith's history from its beginnings in prophetic mission to the Sunni-Shi'a schism, to the formation of distinct schools of law, theology, philosophy and mysticism. Perhaps the most misinterpreted aspect of Islam, sharia, literally translated as the way that leads to a source of water, receives an entire chapter of attention. Ramadan explains the ways in which sharia has been reduced by fundamentalism to a mere criminal code and expands upon its place in the larger Islamic worldview. He then confronts some of the most pressing issues facing Muslims today, including gender equality, religious diversity and violence. Both sensitive and accessible, Introduction to Islam is a much-needed guide to understanding the role of Islam in the modern world.

Islam and the Arab Awakening Tariq Ramadan, 2012-10-12 One of the most important developments in the modern history of the Middle East, the so-called Arab Spring began in Tunisia in December 2010, bringing down dictators, sparking a civil war in Libya and igniting a bloody uprising in Syria. Its long-term repercussions in Egypt and elsewhere remain unclear. Now one of the world's leading Islamic thinkers examines and explains it in this searching, provocative and necessary book. Time Magazine named Tariq Ramadan one of the most important innovators of the twenty-first century. A Muslim intellectual and prolific author, he has won global renown for his reflections on Islam and the contemporary challenges in both the Muslim majority societies and the West. In Islam and the Arab Awakening, he explores the uprisings, offering rare insight into their origin, significance and possible futures. As early as 2003, he writes, there had been talk of democratization in the Middle East and North Africa. The U.S. government and private organizations set up networks and provided training for young leaders, especially in the use of the Internet and social media, and the West abandoned its unconditional support of authoritarian governments. But the West did not create the uprisings. Indeed, one lesson Ramadan presents is that these mass movements and their consequences cannot be totally controlled. Something irreversible has taken place: dictators have been overthrown without weapons. But he writes, democratic processes are only beginning to emerge and unanswered questions remain: What role will religion play? How should Islamic principles and goals be rethought Can a sterile polarizing debate between Islamism and secularism be avoided Avoiding both naive confidence and conspiratorial paranoia Ramadan voices a tentative optimism If a true civil society can be established he argues this moment's fragile hope will live Tradition and Modernity David Marshall,2013-05-20

Tradition and Modernity focuses on how Christians and Muslims connect their traditions to modernity looking especially at understandings of history changing patterns of authority and approaches to freedom The volume includes a selection of relevant texts from 19th and 20th century thinkers from John Henry Newman to Tariq Ramadan accompanied by illuminating commentaries The Idea of European Islam Mohammed Hashas,2018-07-24

Suspicious about the integration of Islam into European cultures have been steadily on the rise and dramatically so since 9 11 One reason lies in the visibility of anti Western Islamic discourses of salafi origin which have monopolized the debate on the true Islam not only among Muslims but also in the eyes of the general population across Europe these discourses combined with Islamophobic discourses reinforce the so called incompatibility between the West and Islam This book breaks away from this clash between Islam and the West by arguing that European Islam is possible It analyzes the contribution that European Islam has made to the formation of an innovative Islamic theology that is deeply ethicist and modern and it clarifies how this constructed European Islamic theology is able to contribute to the various debates that are related to secular liberal democracies of Western Europe Part I introduces four major projects that defend the idea of European Islam from different disciplines and perspectives politics political theology jurisprudence and philosophy Part II uses the frameworks from three major philosophers and scholars to approach the idea of European Islam in the context of secular liberal societies British scholar George Hourani Moroccan philosopher Taha Abderrahmane and the American philosopher John Rawls The book shows that the ongoing efforts of European Muslim thinkers to revisit the concept of citizenship and political community can be seen as a new kind of political theology in opposition to radical forms of Islamic thinking in some Muslim majority countries Opening a new path for examining Islamic thought in and of Europe this book will appeal to students and scholars of Islamic Studies Islam in the West and Political Theology The Future of Political Theology Aakash Singh,Mika Luoma-aho,Dr Péter

Losonczy,2013-06-28 Recent shifts in the contemporary cultural political and religious landscape are engendering intensive attention concerning political theology New trends and traditional ideas equally colour these movements Given that a medley of recent books and articles have exhaustively treated both the history and the current resurgence of political theology we now find ourselves faced with the task of reinventing and redefining the future of political theology This book presents a rich overview of fresh contemporary theoretical approaches uniquely prioritizing the prospects of the future of political theology but also making room for significant interventions from philosophy and political theory Including prominent essays on Judaic Islamic Buddhist and Christian perspectives this book balances elements from post modern theology with more classical as well as anti post modern approaches Islam and the Governing of Muslims in France Frank Peter,2021-01-28 Will

Islam be able to adapt to France's secularity and its strict separation of public and private spheres Can France accommodate Muslims In this book Frank Peter argues that the debate about Islam and Muslims is not simply caused by ignorance or Islamophobia Rather it is an integral part of how secularism is reasoned Islam and the Governing of Muslims in France shows that understanding religion as separate from other aspects of life such as politics economy and culture disregards the ways religion has operated and been managed in secular societies such as France This book uncovers the varying rationalities of the secular that have developed over the past few decades in France to govern Islam in order to examine how Muslims engage with the secular regime and contribute to its transformation This book offers a close analysis of French secularism as it has been debated by Islamic intellectuals and activists from the 1990s until the present It will influence the study of secularism as well as the study of Islam in the French Republic and reveal new connections between Islamic traditions and secular rationalities

Dār al-Islām Revisited Sarah Albrecht, 2018-04-24 Where is dār al-Islām and who defines its boundaries in the 21st century In Dār al-Islām Revisited Territoriality in Contemporary Islamic Legal Discourse on Muslims in the West Sarah Albrecht explores the variety of ways in which contemporary Sunni Muslim scholars intellectuals and activists reinterpret the Islamic legal tradition of dividing the world into dār al-Islām the territory of Islam dār al-ḥarb the territory of war and other geo-religious categories Starting with an overview of the rich history of debate about this tradition this book traces how and why territorial boundaries have remained a matter of controversy until today It shows that they play a crucial role in current discussions of religious authority identity and the interpretation of the shari'a in the West

Discipline, Devotion, and Dissent Graham P. McDonough, Nadeem A. Memon, Avi I. Mintz, 2013-09-03 The education provided by Canada's faith-based schools is a subject of public political and scholarly controversy As the population becomes more religiously diverse the continued establishment and support of faith-based schools has reignited debates about whether they should be funded publicly and to what extent they threaten social cohesion These discussions tend to occur without considering a fundamental question How do faith-based schools envision and enact their educational missions Discipline Devotion and Dissent offers responses to that question by examining a selection of Canada's Jewish Catholic and Islamic schools The daily reality of these schools is illuminated through essays that address the aims and practices that characterize these schools how they prepare their students to become citizens of a multicultural Canada and how they respond to dissent in the classroom The essays in this book reveal that Canada's faith-based schools sometimes succeed and sometimes struggle in bridging the demands of the faith and the need to create participating citizens of a multicultural society Discussion surrounding faith-based schools in Canada would be enriched by a better understanding of the aims and practices of these schools and this book provides a gateway to the subject

Christianity, Islam, and the West Robert A. Burns, 2011-12-01 This book has its origins in a comparative religions course Burns has taught at the University of Arizona for the past thirty years Those who have enrolled in the class have come from diverse religious and cultural backgrounds Whatever the mix a shared curiosity about Christianity Judaism and Islam has always been present Since the 9 11 attacks on the World Trade Center and the Pentagon students as well as the general public are especially interested in Islam Like many Americans they have little or no knowledge of the Islamic religion This work touches upon the origins and central teachings of the Islamic religion and discusses the commonalities and differences between Islam and Christianity Throughout the book Burns poses and answers the kinds of questions most frequently asked by his students This approach will be helpful to students in comparative religions courses as well as other individuals interested in the connections between Christianity and Islam The purpose of this book is to help alleviate the misinformation surrounding Islam and Christianity and to inspire a dialogue between the two religions Such communication will the author hopes help promote justice and peace throughout the world

Islamic Radicalism and Multicultural Politics Tahir Abbas, 2011-03 The emergence of an Islamic political radicalism in Britain has been one of the most dramatic developments in post war society Islamic Radicalism and Multicultural Politics explores the context behind this phenomenon focusing on post war immigration and integration the complex relations that exist between Britain and Islam and the true extent of social and economic inequalities that affect Muslims Community, Faith, and Resistance Sk Sagir Ali, 2024-11-28 This book looks at texts produced before and after 9 11 by novelists with Muslim backgrounds in Britain It delves into the ways in which the politics of representation have changed in the wake of 9 11 and highlights the conflicts that arise in these coming of age narratives between the demands of a liberal individualist lifestyle and those of community family and faith Drawing on the works of Salman Rushdie Hanif Kureishi Nadeem Aslam Qaisra Shahraz Leila Aboulela Robin Yassin Kassab Zia Haider Rahman and Ahdaf Soueif Community Faith and Resistance discusses how these authors distinguish between Islam as a religion and Islam as a culture and negotiate complex themes of religion representation recognition and secularism in their works The volume will be of great interest to scholars and researchers particularly those focused on literature politics cultural studies South Asian studies Islamic studies and decolonial studies providing valuable insights and fostering deeper understanding in these disciplines The Future of Political Islam in the Arab World Tariq Ramadan, 2012-10-02 The strength of the initial revolutionary movements in Tunisia Egypt Libya or Syria lay in not having a specific leadership Rather these movements comprised men and women from different classes backgrounds and religions all coming together In Egypt this was very apparent many came together from a variety of secular leftist and Islamist groups there was no leadership It was clear from the very beginning that these were not Islamist revolutions as some labeled them The Islamists in many of these countries joined the efforts afterwards in fact in the beginning the Islamists were very hesitant to become involved The first to push the Islamist movement to participate were the young members of Tunisia's Al Nahda For the Muslim Brotherhood in Egypt the group's leadership initially said that they would not be involved but they were then encouraged to do so by the younger generation Within the Brotherhood it was quite clear that there was and remains a fracture concerning strategy Whilst the lack of a central leadership brought the initial movements strength it was to become their weakness Why We know now that following the removal of the dictators it quickly became apparent that there was a lack of vision and clarity about what the people actually wanted All we know is what they didn't want so we are still unsure as to what the future will hold Across the board the movements early strength became their weakness From the secularists to the Islamists these pertinent questions persist what is the future and what do they want These questions must be applied from the outset in order to understand the strengths and weaknesses of these movements Ultimately the situation is complex with many issues to consider this is where we are a complex region facing complex challenges with complex dimensions Consequently it pays to be cautious when attempting to predict future developments in Muslim majority countries The current period is quite critical a turning point Something has changed and we can't go back It is now up to the young generation even the Islamists My position on this is quite clear it can't be done by killing or torturing people if someone is dealing with politics be they secular or Islamist it doesn't matter as long as he or she is non violent and respects the rule of law and the democratic process he or she is entitled to be involved in the process and be part of the political discussion Why because is it good for all of us it is good for you because there is nothing in Islam and this is my position that says that religion should take over the state It should be about democratic and majority processes this is Islamic

Muslim Identities Aaron Hughes, 2013-04-23 This well rounded introduction takes an expansive view of Islamic ideology culture and tradition sourcing a range of historical sociological and literary perspectives Locating the Sharī'a Sohaira Siddiqui, 2018-02-04 The study of the shar'a has enjoyed a renaissance in the last two decades and it will continue to attract interdisciplinary attention given the ongoing social political and religious developments throughout the Muslim world With such a variety of debates and a corresponding multitude of theoretical methods students and non scholars are often overwhelmed by the complexity of the field Even experts will often need to consult multiple sources to understand these new voices and provide accessible answers to specialist and non specialist audiences alike This volume is intended for both the novice and expert as a companion to understanding the evolution of the field of Islamic law the current work that is shaping this field and the new directions the shar'a will take in the twenty first century Contributors are Khaled Abou El Fadl Asma Afsaruddin Ahmad Sarah Albrecht Oamir Anjum Dale Correa Robert Gleave Sohail Hanif Rami Koujah Marion Katz Asifa Quraishi Landes David Warren and Salman Younas Moral Apologetics for Contemporary Christians Mark Coppenger, Mark T. Coppenger, 2011 A respected Christian apologist thoughtfully pushes back against critics of the faith as well as cultural relativists arguing that Christianity is morally superior to its competitors and above all true The Theology of Tariq Ramadan Gregory Baum, 2009 Theology of Tariq Ramadan provides an introduction Tariq Ramadan's theology alongside the Catholic tradition American Post-Judaism Shaul Magid, 2013-04-09 Articulates a new post ethnic American Jewishness Territoriality and Hospitality John Azumah, Cheikh Anta Babou, 2024-10-16 In a world where religion is frequently viewed as a source of conflict and division what can we learn from the harmonious coexistence of Christian and Muslim communities flourishing in Africa and elsewhere This collaborative work inspired by the life and legacy of Lamin Sanneh seeks to highlight valuable lessons from the rich Christian and Muslim traditions of hospitality through bringing together voices and perspectives from diverse backgrounds and contexts developing a vision for the common good of society Amplifying a contextual understanding of Christian Muslim relations the authors from Africa and across the world reflect on and respond to the cultural themes of territoriality and hospitality resulting in a comprehensive resource for constructive engagement of the faiths in shared public spaces Readers invested in the future of Christianity and Islam will learn how these cultural and theological resources are vital for both faiths to live and flourish together in Africa and beyond

What Kind of Friendship? Tom Wilson, 2015-09-23 We sometimes say that Muslims and Christians are part of Abraham's family but while you can choose your friends you cannot choose your family In a world filled with conflict can Christians be friends with Muslims When it comes to medical ethics the economy the environment media the arts the place of women in society political engagement do Christians and Muslims have any views in common Utilizing the writings of respected Muslim reformer Tariq Ramadan Tom Wilson asks questions about what kind of friendship Christians and Muslims might have While we disagree as to who Jesus is or how we can be saved can we agree in our concern for a fairer more just society Can we work together for the common good as friends who disagree but remain respectful
