The Canadian Anthology of Social Studies Roland Case, Penney Clark, 1999 Social Studies & the Young Learner ,2003 Middle School Journal ,2006 The Gradual Release of Responsibility in Literacy Research and Practice Mary McVee, Evan Ortlieb, Jennifer Reichenberg, P. David Pearson, 2019-08-26 This edited volume discusses how the Gradual Release of Responsibility model evolved and has been applied how it benefits learners and teachers and how it can be utilised for years to come Journal of Developmental Education ,1995 Literature & the Learner Frances S. Goforth, 1998 As a genre text not an anthology this text teaches students about literature forms and discusses ways of using literature in the classroom It is used to give students the background they need to evaluate select and use children s literature in their own teaching A database of current literature is provided with the text and will be updated annually

Meeting the Standards Mary E. Haas, Margaret A. Laughlin, 1997 This volume expands upon the ten thematic strands for social studies standards identified by the National Council for the Social Studies by providing readings for each of thematic strands Social Studies for the Elementary and Middle Grades Cynthia S. Sunal, Mary E. Haas, 2005 Discusses flexible strategies for teaching today s diverse learner the structure of the knowledge to be learned how to help students reconstruct and present ideas and how to translate theory and recent research into lesson plans and units All within a constructivist framework September 9 2013 Ingrid Robinson took this book off the CRC shelf and asked that it be added to the Reserve Books Shelf Language Arts Pamela J. Farris, 2004 Using Photography and Other Arts-Based Methods With English Language Learners Tabitha Dell'Angelo, Louise Ammentorp, Lauren Madden, 2017-10-19 This book focuses on arts based classroom practices that can be used to support English Language Learners Recognizing that all children learn differently but that the needs of children learning a new language are particularly unique each chapter offers innovative in which arts based methods can support learning across content areas This book also recognizes the intersectionality of language and socio economic status that exists for many ELLs Framing knowledge of two languages as an asset for children who otherwise may come from low resource contexts is an important feature of these chapters This edited book offers resources and practical suggestions from teachers who have successfully integrated the arts into their curriculum It is a useful resource for classroom teachers and other practioners who work with ELL learners from K 12 Elementary & Middle School Social Studies Pamela J. Farris, Susan M. Cooper, 1997 This methods textbook takes a whole language approach to teaching social studies and features the experiences of classroom teachers and college members Updated and expanded literature examples include many titles that feature people of diverse backgrounds and abilities Each chapter includes activities with an assessment section technology products thematic units and focus in the classroom boxes Geography and economics chapters have been included in this edition focusing on map skills and economic issues The text is accompanied by an instructor s manual and evaluation items and Microtest III The Power of Picture Books Mary Jo

Fresch, Peggy Harkins, 2009 Picture books aren't just for little kids. They are powerful and engaging texts that can help all middle school students succeed in language arts, math, science, social studies, and the arts. Picture books appeal to students of all readiness levels, interests, and learning styles. Featuring descriptions and activities for fifty exceptional titles, Mary Jo Fresch and Peggy Harkins offer a wealth of ideas for harnessing the power of picture books to improve reading and writing in the content areas. The authors provide a synopsis of each title along with discipline-specific and cross-curricular activities that illustrate how picture books can be used to supplement and sometimes even replace traditional textbooks. They also offer title suggestions that create a text set of supporting resources. By incorporating picture books into the classroom, teachers across the disciplines can introduce new topics into their curriculum, help students develop nonfiction literacy skills, provide authentic and meaningful cultural perspectives, and help meet a wide range of learning needs. A Celebration of Literature and Response

Marjorie R. Hancock, 2004 Reinforced by teachers' experiences in actual classrooms, this book provides a wealth of ideas for projects, readings, and response-based activities that will engage all learners in the joy of reading and responding to literature. It blends an appreciation of children's books across all genres with an emphasis on meaningful instructional strategies for literacy programs. Coverage of multicultural international literature helps illustrate the universality of themes in children's literature, providing a basis for establishing a library of literature that expresses the totality of children's experiences and speaks to children from all cultures and backgrounds. Coverage is based on Louise Rosenblatt's transactional theory of reader response and organized around five main celebrations that the author uses as a framework for uniting the findings of reader response theory with quality children's literature and exemplary reflective literature-based practice. Includes expanded coverage on multicultural international literature, including numerous examples of children's literature written and published in other countries. Includes extensive coverage of reader responses to literature: oral and written responses, as well as those made through the visual arts. For teachers of Children's Literature. Introduces future teachers to the full range of children's responses to literature; encourages the use of a variety of strategies to elicit authentic, heartfelt, meaningful responses from pupils. An appendix on children's literature awards. Highlights exemplary children's literature across all genres; focuses students' attention on established standards and offers guidance for choosing literature that meets such standards.
