

What Is a Thesis Statement?

A thesis statement is a sentence or two that clearly states the main point of your essay, paper, speech, or research project. It serves as a guide for both you and your readers to understand what your work is about and how it will be organized.

A good thesis statement should be specific, arguable, and focused on the topic at hand. It should also provide a preview of the supporting evidence that you'll use to back up your claims in the body of your work.

A strong thesis statement can help make sure that you stay on track while writing and ensure that all of the information included in your work is relevant to its purpose.

to Writing a Thesis Gerald O'Collins, 2011-02-28 This book is about how postgraduate students might choose a topic for their thesis that they can investigate and turn into a short paper or a long dissertation. The book looks at questions like the following: What should feed into their choice of a supervisor? How should they compile and organise their bibliography and set about writing the introduction? What are some tips for writing paragraphs and entire chapters and producing conclusions? What are ways of providing references using helpful or at least correct punctuation, avoiding common mistakes in spelling and improving their level of writing? When difficulties arise for instance with their supervisor, how might they cope with and resolve such difficulties? This book is a guide. It aims to offer straightforward suggestions about doing research, putting the results into a convincing form and dealing with difficulties that inevitably arise. The overall objective of this book is to provide students and their supervisors with some down to earth proposals about things to do and things to avoid when preparing and producing a long essay or a thesis This book is the result of many years of teaching and supervising students Writing: Step by Step Randy Devillez,2003-05-30 What are your students goals Anthem Guide to Essay Writing Carole L.
