

Writing Chemical Equations

1. Identify reactants and products and place them in a word equation.
2. Convert the chemical names into chemical formulas and write the state symbols.
3. Balance the chemical equation.

Example:

Step 1: Aluminum + iron(III) oxide $\Rightarrow$ aluminum oxide + iron

Step 2: $\text{Al}_{(s)}$ $\text{Fe}_2\text{O}_{3(s)}$ $\text{Al}_2\text{O}_{3(s)}$ $\text{Fe}_{(l)}$

Step 3: $2\text{Al}_{(s)} + \text{Fe}_2\text{O}_{3(s)} \Rightarrow \text{Al}_2\text{O}_{3(s)} + 2\text{Fe}_{(l)}$

Writing Chemical Equations From Words:

Chemistry in Quantitative Language Christopher O. Oriakhi, 2021-09-24 Problem solving is one of the most challenging aspects students encounter in general chemistry courses leading to frustration and failure. Consequently, many students become less motivated to take additional chemistry courses after the first year. This book tackles this issue head on and provides innovative, intuitive, and systematic strategies to tackle any type of calculations encountered in chemistry. The material begins with the basic theories, equations, and concepts of the underlying chemistry, followed by worked examples with carefully explained step-by-step solutions to showcase the ways in which the problems can be presented. The second edition contains additional problems at the end of each chapter with varying degrees of difficulty, and many of the original examples have been revised.

Chemical Literacy and Writing Chemical Reactions Nikolay Gerasimchuk, 2022-09-12 Writing chemical reactions in general and inorganic chemistry is not a trivial task. However, writing reactions for chemical processes correctly is a clear indicator of proficiency and competence in a subject. Unfortunately, very few students grasp the concept of the correct writing of chemical reactions quickly and so are unable to move through topics of general analytical and inorganic chemistry freely. Because the ability to write and balance different types of chemical reactions is a fundamental issue, this becomes a key question of chemical literacy. The successful writing of chemical reactions includes two components: the prediction of products of these reactions and their possible variations, and balancing these reactions, providing a material balance between starting compounds and reaction products. This book explores that element of the teaching of the fundamentals of chemical literacy: writing complete equations of chemical reactions and balancing them. It contains 49 figures, 22 schemes, and 12 tables, and 93 problems with answers. This book will be very useful for high school students interested in chemical sciences, higher education teachers, students in colleges and universities majoring in chemistry and biochemistry, and chemistry professionals working in industry. It also contains information about properties of the most common elements and applications of a variety of their chemical compounds.
