Chapter 1 – The French Revolution

Before the French Revolution

Before the French revolution the French territories and society was like an ancient regime. They had feudal lords who had taken over the political system of the country. The French society was divided into three Estates. They were the clergy, the nobility and the peasants and workers. The upper two estates were closer to the royals and hence received favours easily. The others had to pay multiple taxes and had a life of suffering.

The Initial Stage of the Revolution

- When King Louis XVI sat on the throne, the financial condition of France was horrible.
- The king decided to convene the Estates-General to put more taxes upon the citizens on the Finance Minister's advice.
- The votes of the Estate General used to happen on a per Estate basis.
- The people of the Third Estate demanded that the votes should happen on a per head basis.
- The King did not agree with such a proposal so the representatives of the Third Estate walked out of the assembly.

The Tennis Court Oath

The representatives of the Third Estate formed a National Assembly where they tried to draft a constitution that would limit the powers of the monarchy. The King and the Clergy ultimately conceded to the National Assembly. The legislative powers then shifted from the hands of the King to the National Assembly. The newly created Legislative Assembly was divided into various political groups.

- The Constitutionalist
- The Republicans (The Girondins and The Jacobins)

The Rise of The Jacobins

Due to a war, France faced havoc. The Girondins lost power and the Jacobins became the rulers. They declared France a Republic but it lost its value when they turned tyrants. It was a brutal period of terror that the French had to face. Their

Company,1961 Resources in Education ,2001-04 Literary Tourism Ian Jenkins,Katrin Anna Lund,2019-07-12 Literary tourism is a nascent field in tourism studies yet tourists often travel in the footsteps of well known authors and stories Providing a wide ranging cornucopia of literary tourism topics this book fully explores the interconnections between the written word and travel It includes tourism stories using guidebooks films television and electronic media and recognises that stories texts and narratives even if they cannot be classified as traditional travel writing can become journeys in themselves and take us on imaginary voyages Appealing to a wide audience of different disciplines it encompasses subjects such as business literary writing historical journeys and the poetry of Dylan Thomas The use of these different perspectives demonstrates how heavily and widely literature influences travel tourists and tourism making it an important read for researchers and students of tourism social science and literature Tourism Imaginaries at the Disciplinary

Crossroads Maria Gravari-Barbas,Nelson Graburn,2016-06-23 Providing a unique analysis of current multidisciplinary research on the complex relationships between tourism and the imaginaries of tourist destinations this book traces the links between tourism imaginaries and their religious heaven and political utopia antecedents The substantive chapters are organised into three main thematic sections the first explores the touristic production and consumption of place imaginaries the second analyses the way places are practiced through imaginaries and the role imaginaries play in the tourist experience and the final section explores the way images and the media participate in the creation of tourism imaginaries Reading

Tourism Texts Sabrina Francesconi,2014-02-24 This volume explores the relationship between tourism and travel texts and contemporary society and how each is shaped by the other A multimodal analysis is used to consider a variety of texts including novels brochures blogs websites radio commercials videos postcards and authentic tourist pictures and their meaning making dynamics within the tourism discourse The book looks at the ways in which these different texts have influenced how tourists and travellers have been viewed over time and how we envision ourselves as tourists or travellers It puts forward multimodal analysis as the best framework for exploring the semiotic potential of these texts Including examples from the UK Malta Canada New Zealand India Jamaica and South Africa this volume will be useful for researchers and students in tourism studies communication and media studies and applied linguistics Teaching Tourism Edelman, Johan,Joppe, Marion,Flaherty, Joan,2022-02-22 Tourism as an activity is increasingly being criticised for its exploitative and extractive industrial approaches to business Yet it has the power to transform and to regenerate societies cultures and the environment The desire to explore the world around us is deeply embedded in many people s psyche but it comes at a cost to the environment and often to the residents of the visited communities Much of tourism education has been closely linked to preparing students for future professional practice but the challenges and opportunities linked to its consumption require that its future leaders must exhibit very different values and understandings to tackle ever more complex and wicked problems from which tourism cannot dissociate itself This compilation of values based learning experiences can be adapted to suit the needs and disposition of individual instructors and aims not only to engage students in the subject matter but also deepen their understanding of its complexity and interconnectivity and help them become global citizens that lead lives of consequence

The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a brilliant and gripping novel that will keep you wondering until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
