

BLACK POWER MOVEMENT ESSAY

This essay entails of the Black Power Movement it validates the statement that non-violent strategy has been slow and that if they wanted to win the battle, they better use violence. This essay will discuss the reasons of the Black Power Movement, what black power is, the role played by Malcom X and Stockely Carmichael as well as what black panther is, its founders and lastly the significant progress that was composed by the Black Power Movement as a result of change of non-violence strategies.

Black Power Movement grew out of dissatisfaction of the civil right movement, while the CRM achieved in gains of the civil rights act and voting rights act, economic conditions of plenty of African Americans did not improve significantly as anticipated by the CRM.

However, many African American lived under very poor conditions, they lived in either slums or ghettos, majority of African Americas were unemployed if not they were paid very low wages for many hours of work, in fact better job opportunities were lacking for African Americans moreover the African Americans often experienced police brutality and were found guilty at the expense of inhabitants

Furthermore, as these conditions persisted, African Americans especially Malcom X and Stockely Carmichael and black people from the cities felt very disillusioned by the CRM protest of non-violence which many felt to be too moderate hence Malcom X pivoted to denounce both the democrats and Republicans. Now this influenced many African Americans to find more ways of resistance.

Moreover, as they begun with more ways of resistance, Malcom X influenced many African Americans to find more ways of resistance. He influenced people who believe in black power to be self-reliant, self-sufficient, to have black self-pride, black self-esteem. The fostering of a distinctive of black culture and the promotion of specifically black political agenda as well as the promotion of black interest.

Malcom X was a very good orator who influenced African Americans to stand up against the injustices of the government. Malcom X preached to African Americans what he believed about racial discrimination, segregation and other plenty injustices of the government. He lived his life trying by all means to improve lives of African
