Nyatsumba, 2014-08-16 We walked on a patch of grass that seemed to have been burnt a few hours earlier with soot covering our feet. There in front of us lay my beloved brother Adonis, lifeless, his body facing up. There were numerous stab wounds on his body, including his face, and his lumber jacket was half burnt. Thus begins Kaizer Nyatsumba's tragic story of his twin brother's horrible murder. It is also an intriguing look into aspects of South African life hitherto unknown to many. They were twins of a special kind, the closest of friends and each other's confidantes. Their mothers were sisters; they were inseparable when they grew up; they were the first graduates in the extended family and were the ones the family depended on for leadership. When Adonis was brutally murdered in the Pretoria area in June 2009, Kaizer was shattered and his life irrevocably changed. A part of him died with Adonis, and he has yet to come fully to terms with the loss. A very private man, the author bares his soul in this book. This story by the master craftsman Kaizer Nyatsumba is so absorbing that it is impossible to stop reading. Michael Mandl aButi Mathabela

Cracking the Aging Code Josh Mitteldorf, Dorion Sagan, 2016-06-14 A revolutionary examination of why we age, what it means for our health, and how we just might be able to fight it. In Cracking the Aging Code, theoretical biologist Josh Mitteldorf and award-winning writer and ecological philosopher Dorion Sagan reveal that evolution and aging are even more complex and breathtaking than we originally thought. Using meticulous multidisciplinary science as well as reviewing the history of our understanding about evolution, this book makes the case that aging is not something that just happens, nor is it the result of wear and tear or a genetic inevitability. Rather, aging has a fascinating evolutionary purpose: to stabilize populations and ecosystems which are ever threatened by cyclic swings that can lead to extinction. When a population grows too fast, it can put itself at risk of a wholesale wipeout. Aging has evolved to help us adjust our growth in a sustainable fashion as well as prevent an ecological crisis from starvation, predation, pollution, or infection. This dynamic new understanding of aging is provocative, entertaining, and pioneering, and will challenge the way we understand aging, death, and just what makes us human. Baldrige Award Winning Quality - 14th Edition Mark
