A lifelong Alaskan Steve Kahn moved at the age of nine from the metropolis of Anchorage to the foothills of the Chugach Mountains A childhood of berry picking fishing and hunting led to a life as a big game guide When he wasn't guiding in the spring and fall he worked as a commercial fisherman and earned his pilot's license pursuits that took him to the far reaches of the Alaskan wilderness He lived through some of the most important moments of the state's history the 1964 earthquake the most powerful in U S history the Farewell Bend wildfire the last king crab season in Kodiak Island waters the Exxon Valdez oil spill and cleanup even the far reaching effects of the 9 11 attacks The landscape of the essays in The Hard Way Home extends from the tip of Admiralty Island in the southeast to the Teocalli Mountains of the interior from the windswept Alaska Peninsula to the author's present home on Lake Clark These essays offer a view of Alaska that is at once introspective and adventurous Here we find the state's plants animals people geography politics and culture considered from an intimate perspective leading to hard earned lessons about conservation sustainability and living well Ever the irrepressible guide Kahn invites readers to share his experiences and discoveries and to consider questions about a place and a life that are disappearing Unseen City Nathanael Johnson, 2016-04-05

It all started with Nathanael Johnson's decision to teach his daughter the name of every tree they passed on their walk to day care in San Francisco This project turned into a quest to discover the secrets of the neighborhood's flora and fauna and yielded more than names and trivia Johnson developed a relationship with his nonhuman neighbors Johnson argues that learning to see the world afresh like a child shifts the way we think about nature Instead of something distant and abstract nature becomes real all at once comical annoying and beautiful This shift can add tremendous value to our lives and it might just be the first step in saving the world No matter where we live city country oceanside or mountains there are wonders that we walk past every day Unseen City widens the pinhole of our perspective by allowing us to view the world from the high altitude eyes of a turkey vulture and the distinctly low altitude eyes of a snail The narrative allows us to eavesdrop on the comically frenetic life of a squirrel and peer deep into the past with a ginkgo biloba tree Each of these organisms has something unique to tell us about our neighborhoods and chapter by chapter Unseen City takes us on a journey that is part nature lesson and part love letter to the world s urban jungles With the right perspective a walk to the subway can be every bit as entrancing as a walk through a national park Finding Your Way Home Lucynda Koesters,2005
