	E
	F

• For the "Cables Required" chart that appears with the diagram to determine which cables you'll need, see step 2 to determine which components, such as cables and options, depending on the components you plan to connect.

• Turn off and unplug all components before making connections. If you are connecting a digital cable box, you'll need a special for-directional splitter that's compatible with your cable box. Contact your cable provider.

Making Video Connections

Your TV includes several types of video inputs. Use the inputs that are available on your components that provide the best video performance as described in step 2.

Connector type	Notes
HDMI (High-Definition Multimedia Interface)	• Component video
DVI (Digital Visual Interface)	• Component video
S-Video	• Component video
Composite	• Component video

Additional Connections

The best video performance comes from your digital video components using either digital optical or digital coaxial video connections. Depending on which components are in your system, you may need to complete additional connections. For example, if you have a satellite receiver, you'll need to connect the satellite receiver. If you have an A/V receiver, you'll need to connect speakers.

Note

The receiver's program logic will prevent the use of component video when digital video is used. Connect the video as TV control or use the receiver's video out if you're connecting a digital video source to a receiver.

Activating CableCARD™ Service

Before you use the Digital Audio™ service, you need to turn the CableCARD™ supplied by your cable provider on and activate the service, as described in step 3.

Note

Turning the CableCARD™ service on may require a password change on the card and on the TV.

4 Programming the Remote Control

The remote control is preset to operate Sony-branded video equipment.

Sony Equipment	Programmable Code Number
Video/DVD	401 (Sony Dream System)
SAT Cable	401 (Sony Satellite Receiver)

If you have video equipment other than Sony-branded that you want to control with the TV remote control, use the following procedure to program the remote control.

Note

The receiver must have correct channel capacity numbers to control the receiver.

Using the code list below, find the three-digit code number for the manufacturer of your equipment. If more than one code number is listed, use the number listed first.

- Press the POWER key on the TV to turn the TV on. Press the 401 code number on the remote control to program the TV to control the TV.

Note

- If a code that you can't find is listed, try entering the code that is closest to the code that you can't find.
- If you still can't control your equipment, contact your cable provider for more information.
