educational issues via innovative forms of representation i.e. fiction narratives dialogues rich descriptions and visuals This book was originally published as a special issue of the International Journal of Qualitative Studies in Education Getting Change Right Seth Kahan, 2010-05-17 An innovative communication method for making change happen in any organization Getting Change Right presents a new view of leadership communication that says change doesn't flow top down bottom up or sideways but inside out This is how change spreads through a complex system successfully the other options are force or failure Based on years of experience with organizations around the world change expert Kahan presents a new model of communication one that moves from a transactional view of information exchange to a collaborative construction of shared understanding When the right people are having the right conversations and interactions then they act in concert even though the situations they confront independently are impossible to predict or coordinate This dynamic practitioner's guide to implementing change Presents the innovative co creation communication model for creating change Reveals how communicating with a company's most valuable players is at the heart of organizational change Draws on the author's wealth of experience with Fortune 100 companies leading government agencies and associations Getting Change Right offers business insights and field tested practical techniques that can be put to work immediately Springboards to Inquiry Paige Jaeger, Mary Boyd Ratzer, 2019-07-23 This collection of ideas for lessons provides school librarians with inspiration for meeting the tsunami of new standards dictating change for today's next generation learners Today's school librarian has less and less time to prepare for instruction This book delivers lesson plans for the librarian to implement immediately as is or with a little adaptation Using the new AASL standards and an Information Literacy scope and sequence carefully crafted for K-6 students the authors package lessons that are both engaging and challenging This book inspires librarians to go beyond their usual role in literacy promotion and instruction only and moves to preparing students to be inquiry learners by embracing inquiry based learning Lessons include the Essential Question begin with the end in mind pre and post assessment ideas technology integration ideas where applicable reading and research ideas and collaboration ideas when applicable AASL Standards and others are noted via an integrated standards checklist while new educational research demonstrates that standards can be met via engaging collaborative and interesting lessons modeled throughout the text

Storytelling Organizational Practices David M. Boje, 2014-06-20 Once upon a time the practice of storytelling was about collecting interesting stories about the past and converting them into soundbite pitches Now it is more about foretelling the ways the future is approaching the present prompting a re-storying of the past Storytelling has progressed and is about a diversity of voices not just one teller of one past it is how a group or organization of people negotiates the telling of history and the telling of what future is arriving in the present With the changes in storytelling practices and theory there is a growing need to look at new and different methodologies Within this exciting new book David M Boje develops new ways to ask questions in interviews and make observations of practice that are about storytelling the future This after all is where management practice concentrates its storytelling while much of the theory and method work is all about how the past might recur in the future Storytelling Organizational Practices takes the reader on a journey from looking at narratives of past experience through looking at living stories of emergence in the present to looking at how the future is arriving in ways that prompts a re-storying of the past
