Sous les vents de Neptune Fred Vargas, 2004 Analyse Roman policier nîme , The Cambridge Companion to World Crime Fiction Jesper Gulddal, Stewart King, Alistair Rolls, 2022-04-21 The first systematic account of crime fiction as a global genre offering unprecedented coverage of distinct traditions across the world The Pleasures of Crime David Platten, 2011-12 For 150 years the French public and literati have enjoyed a love affair with crime fiction This book investigates the nature of this relationship and how through periods of dramatic social and political change in France it has flourished It challenges the conventional view of a popular genre feeding a niche market depicting crime fiction instead as a field of creative endeavour which has gradually matured into one of considerable literary fertility By inviting us to share secrets and crack codes creating suspense and at times not shirking from presenting horrific events in graphic language the crime story brings into play the intellect and emotions of its readership This book explores both this intrinsic literary value of the crime novel and its extrinsic witness to historical events and cultural trends arguing that these apparently distinct aspects are in fact dynamic interrelated parts of the same whole This blend of cultural history with literary analysis allows for the discussion of themes such as politics memory the urban environment and youth cultures mixed with case studies of major French crime writers including Gaston Leroux Georges Simenon Jean Patrick Manchette Daniel Pennac and Fred Vargas

Rural Writing Mauricette Fournier, 2019-01-17 If as a corollary of urbanization many artists seized as early as the nineteenth century and most of the twentieth century the city as object and scene of their reflection on a world under construction it was not the same for rural areas Generally speaking until recently the countryside's representations have been shaped by the writings of a ruling class However in recent decades alongside the country novels or terroir novels that follow in line with the rustic current initiated in the nineteenth century more demanding literary productions have emerged These writings often fed by the sense of loss and the end of a certain agricultural lifestyle are also exploring the contemporary reconstructions of rural areas little publicized They redefine a new regionality less militant and certainly less connoted in its nostalgic link to the land This book revisits rural areas and their representations in contemporary writing in both popular and high culture in order to draw a global landscape of current rural areas and new regionalities
