The Worst Journey in the World Apsley Cherry-Garrard,2014-06-19 Polar exploration is at once the cleanest and most isolated way of having a bad time which has been devised It is the only form of adventure in which you put on your clothes at Michaelmas and keep them on until Christmas and save for a layer of the natural grease of the body find them as clean as though they were new It is more lonely than London more secluded than any monastery and the post comes but once a year As men will compare the hardships of France Palestine or Mesopotamia so it would be interesting to contrast the rival claims of the Antarctic as a medium of discomfort A member of Campbell's party tells me that the trenches at Ypres were a comparative picnic But until somebody can evolve a standard of endurance I am unable to see how it can be done Take it all in all I do not believe anybody on earth has a worse time than an Emperor penguin Even now the Antarctic is to the rest of the earth as the Abode of the Gods was to the ancient Chaldees a precipitous and mammoth land lying far beyond the seas which encircled man's habitation and nothing is more striking about the exploration of the Southern Polar regions than its absence for when King Alfred reigned in England the Vikings were navigating the ice fields of the North yet when Wellington fought the battle of Waterloo there was still an undiscovered continent in the South This book contains the travel tales of Robert Falcon Scott's last Expedition which in 1910 moved him from England to Antarctica where he died tragically two years later The author Apsley Cherry Garrard was part of the expedition team and along with others he found the captain and others frozen to death The expedition should bring the men of British origin to the South Pole before the Norwegian Roald Asmundsen would reach it but the way turned out to be too hard they hardly managed their daily stint In addition the Antarctica gave them a very hard time particularly the harsh weather conditions This The Worst Journey In The World

As the bird nests during the Antarctic winter it was necessary to mount a special expedition in July 1911 to the penguins rookery at Cape Crozier. Wilson chose Cherry Garrard to accompany him and another crew member across the Ross Ice Shelf under conditions of complete darkness and temperatures of 40 C and below. All three men barely alive returned from Cape Crozier with their egg specimens which were stored.

The Worst Journey in the World Apsley CHERRY-GARRARD, 2017-09-16

The Worst Journey in the World is a memoir of the 1910-1913 British Antarctic Expedition led by Robert Falcon Scott. It was written and published in 1922 by a member of the expedition, Apsley Cherry Garrard, and has earned wide praise for its frank treatment of the difficulties of the expedition, the causes of its disastrous outcome, and the meaning of human suffering under extreme conditions.

Preparations and the Worst Journey In 1910

Cherry Garrard and his fellow explorers travelled by sailing vessel the Terra Nova from Cardiff to McMurdo Sound Antarctica. Cherry was teased at first by some of the other members of this expedition because of his lack of Antarctic experience, his lack of specialised credentials for the position of assistant zoologist to which he had been named, and persistent suspicions among some of his comrades that he had in fact bought his way on board by contributing 1,000 to the expedition's troubled funds. Cherry Garrard responded to these taunts with modesty, a self-sacrificial ability to work hard, and acute observational skills. He was also, according to novelist biographer and socialite Nancy Mitford, the only intellectual amongst the crew. These traits were to serve him well when it came time for him to write down his memories of the expedition. They also caught the eye of the expedition's second in command, Dr Edward Wilson, who adopted Cherry Garrard as a protégé. Dr Wilson's personal goal in Antarctica was to recover eggs of the Emperor penguin for scientific study. It was thought at the time that the flightless and primitive penguin might shed light on an evolutionary link between reptiles and birds through its embryo.

As the bird nests during the Antarctic winter it was necessary to mount a special expedition in July 1911 from the expedition's base at Cape Evans to the penguins rookery at Cape Crozier Wilson chose Cherry Garrard to accompany him and Birdie Bowers across the Ross Ice Shelf under conditions of complete darkness and temperatures of 40 C and below All three men barely alive returned from Cape Crozier with their egg specimens which were stored It was this Winter Journey not the later expedition to the South Pole that Cherry Garrard later described as The Worst Journey in the World Later the tragedy and the book The expedition then swung into preparations for a march from Cape Evans to the as yet unreachable South Pole This march was to be done during the Antarctic summer in 1911 1912 Scott's strategy called for a large team of men ponies motor sledges and dogs to start out southward from their base hauling food and fuel on sledges As the team progressed southward the leader would successively send support groups back home leaving a small Pole party of the fittest men to make the final advance to the South Pole Cherry Garrard accompanied the initial team across the Ross Ice Shelf and up the Beardmore Glacier that discharges ice from the Antarctic Plateau down onto the shelf At the edge of the polar plateau Scott told him that he would have to return northward The men not chosen to go on to the Pole all returned to the base camp at Cape Evans Some returned by ship to Britain while others stayed in the Antarctic and prepared to meet Scott and his four companions on the return journey But for a variety of reasons partly described in The Worst Journey in the World the rendezvous failed Cherry had been given the task of using the dog teams to meet Scott's party and assist them home but in fact Cherry Garrard did not penetrate beyond One Ton Depot only 11 miles distant from Scott's final location where he and his companions froze to death In 1912 1913 Cherry Garrard and other expedition members once again marched southward this time to try to find traces of their lost comrades
