Female Rule in Chinese and English Literary Utopias Qingyun Wu, 1995-06-01 Qingyun Wu's work is a unique discovery in literary studies in the West Chinese utopian literature paired with its English counterparts form an original and valuable contribution to world literature In widely varying historical and cultural texts that span the last five centuries Wu analyzes the theme of female rule including a critique of patriarchy and emphasizing a vision for women To date Chinese utopias have been insufficiently explored and unavailable to Western scholars Wu's theories of the politics of female rule as seen in Chinese and English literature since the end of the sixteenth century are predicated on three significant changes that have taken place during those periods These include an outright rejection of rule by women to rule by women in the guise of men from individual to collective female rule and from an idealized matrilineality to anarchism by the female principle Works examined include Edmund Spenser's The Faerie Queen Luo Maodeng's Sanbao's Expedition to the Western Ocean Florence Dixie's Gloriana Charlotte Perkins Gilman's Herland Ursula K LeGuin's The Dispossessed Chen Duansheng's The Destiny of the Next Life Li Ruzhen's The Flowers in the Mirror and Bai Hua's The Remote Country of Women This critical view of the development of feminist utopias in both the East and West will be of interest to scholars of women's studies political science and anthropology as well

Johnson, 2016-04-01 Though the gender coded soul body dynamic lies at the root of many negative and disempowering depictions of women Sarah Johnson here argues that it also functions as an effective tool for redefining gender expectations Building on past criticism that has concentrated on the debilitating cultural association of women with the body she investigates dramatic uses of the soul body dynamic that challenge the patriarchal subordination of women Focusing on two tragedies two comedies and a small selection of masques from approximately 1592 1614 Johnson develops a case for the importance of drama to scholarly considerations of the soul body dynamic which habitually turn to devotional works sermons and philosophical and religious treatises to elucidate this relationship Johnson structures her discussion around four theatrical relationships each of which is a gendered relationship analogous to the central soul body dynamic puppeteer and puppet tamer and tamed ghost and haunted and observer and spectacle Through its thorough and nuanced readings this study redefines one of the period s most pervasive analogies for conceptualizing women and their relations to men as more complex and shifting than criticism has previously assumed It also opens a new interpretive framework for reading representations of women adding to the ongoing feminist re evaluation of the kinds of power women might actually wield despite the patriarchal strictures of their culture
