Things Visitors :

Cities and Visitors Lily M. Hoffman, Susan S. Fainstein, Dennis R. Judd, 2011-07-20 The authors of this book use regulation theory to bring theoretical focus and analytic clarity to the study of urban tourism Provides a unifying analytic framework for the study of urban tourism Brings urban tourism into focus as an important political economic and cultural phenomenon Presents original essays written by established scholars including studies of Venice Mexico Montreal New York Los Angeles London Barcelona Berlin Amsterdam Paris and Australia s Gold Coast Religion in Museums Gretchen Buggeln, Crispin Paine, S. Brent Plate, 2017-02-23 Bringing together scholars and practitioners from North America Europe Russia and Australia this pioneering volume provides a global survey of how museums address religion and charts a course for future research and interpretation Contributors from a variety of disciplines and institutions explore the work of museums from many perspectives including cultural studies religious studies and visual and material culture Most museums throughout the world whether art archaeology anthropology or history museums include religious objects and an increasing number are beginning to address religion as a major category of human identity With rising museum attendance and the increasingly complex role of religion in social and geopolitical realities this work of stewardship and interpretation is urgent and important Religion in Museums is divided into six sections museum buildings reception objects collecting and research interpretation of objects and exhibitions and the representation of religion in different types of museums Topics covered include repatriation conservation architectural design exhibition heritage missionary collections curation collections and display and the visitor s experience Case studies provide comprehensive coverage and range from museums devoted specifically to the diversity of religious traditions such as the State Museum of the History of Religion in St Petersburg to exhibitions centered on religion at secular museums such as Hajj Journey to the Heart of Islam at the British Museum

Mountain Biking at Tsali James M. Bowker, 2002 What Makes Learning Fun? Deborah L. Perry, 2012-05-04 Although much has been written in recent years on what museum visitors actually experience there is little research backed guidance available for developing meaningful exhibits and programs for specific educational purposes Deborah Perry looks at what we know about the experiences of people in museums and other informal learning settings and then shares a set of tested principles and strategies known as the Selinda Model for the design of effective museum exhibits Along the way she showcases examples of both effective and ineffective exhibit designs drawn from two decades of work in the field

Designing for the Museum Visitor Experience Tiina Roppola, 2013-03-05 Exhibition environments are enticingly complex spaces as facilitators of experience as free choice learning contexts as theaters of drama as encyclopedic warehouses of cultural and natural heritage as two three and four dimensional storytellers as sites for self actualizing leisure activity But how much do we really know about the moment by moment transactions that comprise the intricate experiences of visitors To strengthen the disciplinary knowledge base supporting exhibition design we must understand more about what goes on as people engage with the multifaceted communication environments that are contemporary exhibition spaces The in depth visitor centered research underlying this book offers nuanced understandings of the interface between visitors and exhibition environments Analysis of visitors meaning making accounts shows that the visitor experience is contingent upon four processes framing resonating channeling and broadening These processes are distinct yet mutually influencing Together they offer an evidence based conceptual framework for understanding visitors in exhibition spaces Museum educators designers interpreters curators researchers and evaluators will find this framework of value in both daily practice and future planning Designing for the Museum Visitor Experience provides museum professionals and academics with a fresh vocabulary for understanding what goes on as visitors wander around exhibitions

Los Angeles Pride Sebastian Dean,2025-10-19 Pride in Los Angeles is more than an event it is a living expression of resilience diversity and the determination to be seen and heard This city has a long history of championing individuality of providing space for people to come together and of encouraging the voices that shape the LGBTQ movement The annual Pride celebration stands as a reminder of how far the community has come while highlighting the work that still lies ahead Over the years Los Angeles Pride has evolved into a global beacon for equality and self expression People travel from across the United States and beyond to experience the unique blend of cultural richness political activism and sheer joy that fills the streets during Pride Week From the moment the first rainbow flags are hung the city transforms into a vibrant hub of music art and storytelling where every individual can find a place to belong For many this celebration is a deeply personal experience It offers a chance to connect with others who share similar journeys to stand in solidarity with those whose stories may differ and to witness the collective power of a community united by love and acceptance Whether someone is attending for the first time or has been part of Pride for decades the feeling of connection and empowerment is undeniable This eBook is a journey through the spirit and energy of Los Angeles Pride It explores its history its diverse events and the people and places that keep the celebration alive throughout the year You ll learn about the parade that brings thousands to the streets the cultural landmarks that tell the story of the movement and the community spaces that nurture connection every day The goal is to capture both the festive and reflective sides of Pride moments of celebration and moments of remembrance the music and the marching the dancing and the demands for change Each chapter is a window into the ways Pride enriches not only the lives of those in Los Angeles but also the broader movement for equality around the world In sharing this I hope to bring to life the colorful energy heartfelt emotion and unwavering resilience that make Los Angeles Pride such an unforgettable experience It is more than a festival it is a movement a safe space and a promise to keep pushing forward until every person can live openly and authentically without fear and without compromise

Living Sustainably A. Whitney Sanford, 2017-06-16 In light of concerns about food and human health fraying social ties economic uncertainty and rampant consumerism some people are foregoing a hurried distracted existence and embracing a mindful way of living Intentional residential communities across the United States are seeking the freedom to craft their own societies and live based on the values of nonviolence self sufficiency equality and voluntary simplicity In Living Sustainably A Whitney Sanford reveals the solutions that such communities have devised for sustainable living while highlighting the specific choices and adaptations that they have made to accommodate local context and geography She examines their methods of reviving and adapting traditional agrarian skills testing alternate building materials for their homes and developing local governments that balance group needs and individual autonomy Living Sustainably is a teachable testament to the idea that new cultures based on justice and sustainability are attainable in many ways Sanford's engaging work demonstrates that citizens can make a conscious effort to subsist in a more balanced harmonious world Infantry ,2008 Theorizing Central Asian Politics Rico Isaacs,Alessandro Frigerio,2018-10-26 This book brings together a series of innovative contributions which provide an eclectic view of how theorizing politics plays out in Central Asia How are the concepts of governance legitimacy ideology power order and the state framed in the region How can we use the experiences of the Central Asian states to renovate political theorizing In addressing these questions the volume relies on the contributions of many young and local researchers whose chapters are primed to address three key themes exploring models of governance revealing ideological justifications and reframing state and order Utilizing a range of single and comparative case studies from across the Central Asian space this illuminating and original volume opens up a new space for political theorists regional specialists and students of politics to begin reconsidering how we approach the theorization of regions of the world assumed to be on the periphery
