Commentary The Zimmermann Telegram Barbara W. Tuchman, 1978 First Salute Barbara Wertheim Tuchman, 1988-10-01 Tuchman turns to America with a fresh new view of the events that led from the first foreign salute to the American Nationhood in 1776 to the last campaign of the Revolution five years later the moment that inaugurated the existence of a new nation and announced the coming of a democratic age to the Old World 8 pages of color 8 pages of photos 7 maps The House of Truth Brad Snyder, 2017-01-04 In 1912 a group of ambitious young men including future Supreme Court justice Felix Frankfurter and future journalistic giant Walter Lippmann became disillusioned by the sluggish progress of change in the Taft Administration The individuals started to band together informally joined initially by their enthusiasm for Theodore Roosevelt's Bull Moose campaign They self mockingly called the 19th Street row house in which they congregated the House of Truth playing off the lively dinner discussions with frequent guest and neighbor Oliver Wendell Holmes Jr about life's verities Lippmann and Frankfurter were house mates and their frequent guests included not merely Holmes but Louis Brandeis Herbert Hoover Herbert Croly founder of the New Republic and the sculptor and sometime Klansman Gutzon Borglum later the creator of the Mount Rushmore monument Weaving together the stories and trajectories of these varied fascinating combative and sometimes contradictory figures Brad Snyder shows how their thinking about government and policy shifted from a firm belief in progressivism the belief that the government should protect its workers and regulate monopolies into what we call liberalism the belief that government can improve citizens' lives without abridging their civil liberties and eventually civil rights Holmes replaced Roosevelt in their affections and aspirations His famous dissents from 1919 onward showed how the Due Process clause could protect not just business but equality under the law revealing how a generally conservative and reactionary Supreme Court might embrace even initiate political and social reform Across the years from 1912 until the start of the New Deal in 1933 the remarkable group of individuals associated with the House of Truth debated the future of America They fought over Sacco and Vanzetti's innocence the dangers of Communism the role the United States should play the world after World War One and thought dynamically about things like about minimum wage child welfare laws banking insurance and Social Security notions they not only envisioned but worked to enact American liberalism has no single source but one was without question a row house in Dupont Circle and the lives that intertwined there at a crucial moment in the country's history The First Salute Barbara W. Woodrow Wilson, the Great War, and the Fourth Estate James Startt, 2017-05-26 James D Startt previously explored Woodrow Wilson s relationship with the press during his rise to political prominence Now Startt returns to continue the story picking up with the outbreak of World War I in 1914 and tracing history through the Senate s ultimate rejection in 1920 of the Treaty of Versailles and the League of Nations Woodrow Wilson the Great War and the Fourth Estate delves deeply into the president s evolving relations with the press and its influence on and importance to the events of the time Startt navigates the complicated relationship that existed between one of the country s most controversial leaders and its increasingly ruthless corps of journalists The portrait of Wilson that emerges here is one of complexity a skilled politician whose private nature and notorious grit often tarnished his rapport with the press and an influential leader whose passionate vision just as often inspired journalists to his cause
