Disappointment Marrying the Wrong Man Elley Arden, 2014-05-12 Three years ago Morgan Parrish was embroiled in her father's plan to marry a man who was destined for the presidency. There was just one problem: Morgan was in love with and pregnant by another man. When the house of cards her father had built came tumbling down, Morgan fled town and the backlash. Now she's stuck in Harmony Falls after a childhood bank account turns out to be empty. Even more shocking: the child she intended to place for adoption rather than cause more scandal is at her side. As the son of the town drunk, life hasn't always been easy for Charlie Cramer. Maybe that's why he's holding on to his own sobriety and his brand new restaurant so tightly. Too tightly, if his grouchiness and control freak tendencies in the kitchen are any indication. To make matters worse, Morgan Parrish is back in town and she has a surprise for him: He's a daddy. Can he face the truth and not lose the stability he's worked so hard to achieve these last three years? When a staff shortage ends up with Morgan waitressing at the bistro five nights a week, old feelings come to a boil. But there's even more to consider now. If they give in to the attraction and screw things up again, a precious little girl will have to deal with the fallout. On the other hand, if they can make this work, they'll be a family. It's the biggest risk either one of them will ever take.

A Hitchcock Reader Marshall Deutelbaum, Leland Poague, 2009-02-24 This new edition of A Hitchcock Reader aims to preserve what has been so satisfying and successful in the first edition: a comprehensive anthology that may be used as a critical text in introductory or advanced film courses while also satisfying Hitchcock scholars by representing the rich variety of critical responses to the director's films over the years. A total of 20 of Hitchcock's films are discussed in depth; many others are considered in passing sections. Introductions by the editors contextualize the essays, and the films they discuss. Alfred Hitchcock Paula Marantz Cohen, 2021-10-05 This provocative study traces Alfred Hitchcock's long directorial career from Victorianism to postmodernism Paula Marantz Cohen considers a sampling of Hitchcock's best films Shadow of a Doubt Rear Window Vertigo Psycho as well as some of his more uneven ones Rope The Wrong Man Topaz and makes connections between his evolution as a filmmaker and trends in the larger society Drawing on a number of methodologies including feminism psychoanalysis and family systems the author provides an insightful look at the paradox of a Victorian style gentleman who evolved into one of the leading masters of the modern medium of film Cohen posits that Hitchcock's films are in part a masculine response to the domestic psychological novels that had appealed primarily to women during the Victorian era His career she argues can be seen as an attempt to balance the two faces of Victorianism the masculine legacy of law and hierarchy and the feminine legacy of feeling and imagination Cohen asserts that Hitchcock s films reflect his Victorian legacy and serve as a map for ideological trends She charts his development from his British period through his classic Hollywood years into his later phase tracing a conceptual evolution that corresponds to an evolution in cultural identity one that builds on a Victorian inheritance and ultimately discards it Christocentric Reformed
