Theology The Subject Of Foundations:

Theology Zachary Baldwin, 2014-12-10 Assorted Essays on Theology History Education and Morality Addresses the subject of studying God and its application in our world today Theological Foundations John J. Mueller, 2007 Here a team of award winning teaching scholars has come together to create an introductory text that offers a truly unique and innovative contribution to the discipline of theological studies This first book provides students of any religious tradition with the foundational skills vocabulary conceptual understanding and research abilities that they need to succeed in theology and religious studies Theological Foundations provides the following Ten chapters that introduce the major sub disciplines of theology creating a well rounded source for understanding the discipline as a whole Contributions that are clear accessible and steeped in content A strong basis for vigorous intellectual and personal exploration of life and our relation to God Flexibility that allows the instructor to assign readings in any order that fits his or her syllabus A one of a kind integrated library research component From the Reference Librarian which teaches students the foundational skills needed for successful study in theology and in any academic discipline Foundations of Systematic Theology Thomas G. Guarino, 2005-05-01 Guarino argues in this book that the doctrinal form of the Christian faith in its essential characteristics calls for certain theoretical exigencies This is to say that the proportion and beauty of the form is not served or illuminated by simply any presuppositions Rather a determinate understanding of first philosophy of the nature of truth of hermeneutical theory of the predication of language and mutual correlation is required if Christian faith and doctrine are to maintain a recognizable and suitably mediative form Failing to adduce specific principles will lead either to a simple assertion of Christian truth in which case the form of Christianity becomes less intelligible and attractive or one will substitute a radically changed form which is itself inappropriate for displaying the fundamental revelatory narrative of faith The house of Christian faith possesses a certain proportion of structure the form will sag badly if one removes an undergirding item or if one beam is replaced with another of variable shape or size The form s beauty will either be obscured no longer clearly visible or the form will become something quite different no longer architectonically related to what was originally the case The intention of this book is to discuss those doctrinal characteristics considered fundamental to the Christian faith as protective of its revelatory form and concomitantly to examine the theoretical principles required if such form is to remain both intelligible and beautiful Theology and the Dialectics of History Robert M. Doran, 1990-01-01 Doran draws extensively on the thought of Bernard Lonergan and the work develops Lonergan s methodological insights Teaching the Primary Foundation Subjects N/A WEBSTER, N/A MISRA, 2015-04-16 This handy textbook offers a one stop compendium on teaching the extensive range of primary foundation subjects It takes an innovative three lens approach which considers the Identity and Pedagogy of each of the foundation subjects as well as presenting a Toolkit of teaching activities This useful framework helps you develop your knowledge and understanding of the foundation subjects as well as how to plan assess and teach these diverse subjects The book also helps you understand the value that the foundation subjects bring and enables you to reflect on why and how to teach them in a creative imaginative and inspirational way In particular the book offers A clear structure that is easy to follow A concise overview of the curriculum requirements for each subject Great teaching ideas for each subject to try out in the classroom Links to academic research and practical experiences from the classroom With its rich range of creative and practical teaching activities and underpinned by the pedagogy and identity of each discipline this is essential reading for beginning and early career teachers Maggie Webster is Senior Lecturer and RE Subject Leader at Edge Hill University UK Sarah Misra is Senior Lecturer and PGCE Programme Leader at Staffordshire University UK An essential companion for both new and experienced educators of the Primary Curriculum Webster and Misra draw on the pertinent knowledge and experience of subject specialists to deliver a modern articulate and knowledgeable overview of how to effectively deliver the Foundation Subjects Their passion for the Foundation Subjects is evident through their in depth analysis of the value they have to the holistic development of children Through a comprehensive examination of subject identity effective pedagogy and creative teaching strategies Webster and Misra provide the tools to be a pro active reflective and versatile leader in the Foundation Subjects The knowledge and experience of the authors and contributors is evident in the books ability to convey theory and pedagogy using coherent and accessible language which makes it both informative and practical This book adopts a unique and fresh approach which seamlessly combines theory and experience to deliver information that is enlightening inspiring and truly useful Nick Murphy Edge Hill University Trainee teacher and Teaching Assistant This book fills a void in the world of ITE The links between theory and practice can be difficult to comprehend for those making their first steps into the profession With the three lens approach exploring the unique nature of each discipline synthesised with pedagogical aspects and creative ideas this book provides fabulous support for trainee teachers to clearly make those links I feel that Teaching the Primary Foundation Subjects will be an invaluable text for ITE providers to share with their students to support and guide them not only through their placements but through their academic work too Emma McVittie Senior Lecturer Primary and Secondary RE York St John University

The Unaccommodated Calvin : Studies in the Foundation of a Theological Tradition Richard A. Muller P. J. Zondervan Professor of Historical Theology Calvin Theological Seminary,2000-01-31 This book attempts to understand Calvin in his 16th century context with attention to continuities and discontinuities between his thought and that of his predecessors contemporaries and successors Muller pays particular attention to the interplay between theological and philosophical themes common to Calvin and the medieval doctors and to developments in rhetoric and method associated with humanism Theology in Search of Foundations

Randal Rauser,2009-08-20 In the history of Western thought Christian theology was once considered to be the Queen of Sciences Today it has been marginalised by a prevailing scepticism Randal Rauser confronts the problem of developing a public voice for the theologian as engaged in true theological science while not compromising the commitment to the Christian community of faith This book posits a viable account of theological rationality justification and knowledge that avoids the twin pitfalls of modern rationalism and postmodern irrationalism Theology is freshly understood as a rigorous and rational truth seeking discipline that seeks theoretical understanding of divine reality Throughout the modern era the predominant epistemological position has been classical foundationalism a position now widely rejected by philosophers and theologians alike Philosophers recognize that it fails to achieve a plausible account of rationality justification or knowledge while theologians recognize the extent to which classical foundationalist strictures have distorted Christian doctrine In its place many philosophers and theologians alike have adopted a nonfoundationalist epistemology which is in turn often associated with a problematic alethic and metaphysical antirealism Engaging with the ideas of key thinkers from Descartes Locke and Kant to Bruce Marshall and Alvin Plantinga Rauser provides an accessible and provocative survey of the theological terrain of the modern and postmodern era arguing in favour of a return to a moderate foundationalism

Theological Foundations for Ministry Ray S. Ban, 1988 What is Systematic Theology? Robert M. Doran, S.J., 2005-11-05 In his classic work Method in Theology Bernard Lonergan left many questions unanswered in regard to his treatment of systematics In What Is Systematic Theology Robert M Doran attempts to articulate and respond to these questions Doran begins by accepting four emphases presented by Lonergan concerning systematics first that its principal function is the hypothetical and analogical understanding of the mysteries of faith second that it should begin with those mysteries of faith that have received dogmatic status third that it must proceed in the order of teaching rather than the order of discovery and last that it must be explanatory rather than merely descriptive He then addresses questions that are raised by each of these emphases What Is Systematic Theology is the most thorough attempt undertaken to date to advance Lonergan's program for systematics fully in the spirit of his work but addressing issues that he left to others Doran's idea of a core set of meanings for systematics or a unified field structure is highly original as is the integration of the systematic ideal and contemporary historical
