The American City Arthur Hastings Grant, Harold Sinley Buttenheim, 1914 Developing Self-Confidence in Young Writers Steve Bowkett, 2017-09-21 How many times as a teacher have you heard the cry "But I don't know what to write." This all too familiar fear of the blank page can be overcome by using the wealth of practical suggestions for helping children to feel more confident as they strive to master the complex combination of skills that make up the craft of writing. Steve Bowkett, an experienced author and writer, suggests a two-pronged attack, giving children a toolkit of techniques for generating and organizing ideas of their own, coupled with methods for perceiving themselves as writers, all designed to boost self-esteem and self-confidence. This book will help to motivate children, Primary and Lower Secondary, towards becoming more creative, confident, and effective writers, an attitude that will lead to beneficial effects in many other areas of learning too.

The Summary, 1908 Beyond Digital Representation Andrea Giordano, Michele Russo, Roberta Spallone, 2023-09-01 This book collects contributions which showcase the impact of new augmented reality (AR) and artificial intelligence (AI) technologies, considered jointly in the fields of cultural heritage and innovative design. AR is an alternative path of analysis and communication if applied to several fields of research, in particular if related to space and artifacts. This happens because the neural network development strengthens the relationship between augmented reality and artificial intelligence, creating processes close to human thought in shorter times. In the last years, the AR/AI expansion and the future scenarios have raised a deep transdisciplinary speculation. The disciplines of representation, drawing, surveying, visual communication, as a convergence place of multidisciplinary theoretical and applicative studies related to architecture, city environment, tangible and intangible cultural heritage, are called to contribute to the international debate. The book chapters deal with augmented reality and artificial intelligence, analyzing their connections as research tools for knowing the environment. In particular, the topics focus on the intersection between real and virtual world and on the heuristic role of drawing in the enhancement and management of cultural heritage in planning and monitoring the architecture, the environment, or the infrastructures. Scientists involved in AR and AI research, applied separately or together in the field of cultural heritage, architectural design, urban planning, and infrastructures analysis, as well as members of public and private organizations, make up interdisciplinary groups that fuel the discussion, focusing on the priorities and aims of the research related to the disciplines of representation.

Geographies of Urban Sound Torsten Wissmann, 2016-04-22 Traffic, music, language, and nature help to create unique soundscapes that are essential to the place-based character of each city. Taking into account both the urban soundscape and the impacts of sound on the urban dweller this book examines sound not as a by product of urban life but as a fundamental part of the urban experience that is crucial to understanding the city's sense of place. Illustrated by case studies from Europe and North America, these range from on-site measurements to the construction of audio tours for local tourism, from media analysis of popular culture audio drama to sound identity and city branding, and from the classification of noise in city planning to a consideration of the complex relationship between sacred sound and the creation of a sense of place. Taking a social geographic perspective, the book focuses on the effects of sounds on the individual and how they influence the ways s/he engages the city as place, especially in their daily routines. In doing so, it uncovers the socio-scientific potential of sound in the urban environment based on the understanding that sound cannot and must not be seen as detached from the urban landscape but rather as a constituting element. Sound exists not only within the city; it is the city.
