Young,Elizabeth Jean,Anne E. Mead,2018-12-18 From Cradle to Classroom A Guide to Special Education for Young Children is a book written for regular and special education teachers school administrators school psychologists related educational personnel day care providers parents graduate students and policy makers who work on behalf of infants toddlers and preschoolers to ensure they are ready for formal education when they reach age 5 It reflects a keen understanding that early interventions are most effective in reducing the potential for special education or other support services later in a child s development Research shows the benefits of investing in early intervention and high quality preschool as a way to mitigate educational gaps in learning and to improve the development of children across all domains Executive Office of the President of the United States 2015 Lynch Yoshikawa et al 2013 Throughout the book readers will find strategies to help atypical children navigate the world as they move from infancy to toddlerhood and to preschool and beyond The chapters dig deep and offer expansive understandings of the components necessary to ensure young children especially those with exceptionalities become successful students

Mount Bachelor Glenn Voelz, 2023 The mountain that saved a dying town Long before Mount Bachelor became one of the country's largest ski areas the booming timber mills drew workers to Oregon's forested hills In the early 1920s Scandinavian immigrants started a community ski club and their passion for the mountains created a vibrant outdoor culture centered on skiing and winter recreation As the timber industry collapsed in the 1950s Bend businessman Bill Healy opened a small ski hill on the slopes of Bachelor Butte That resort set in the heart of the Deschutes National Forest helped turn a fading logging town into a hub for tourism and outdoor recreation Join author Glenn Voelz as he explores how Mount Bachelor became a vital part of the region's culture history and economy

Outlook and Independent, 1920 Interpreting the Environment at Museums and Historic Sites Debra A. Reid, David D. Vail, 2019-09-19 Interpreting the Environment at Museums and Historic Sites is for anyone who wants to better understand the environment that surrounds us and sustains us who wants to become a better steward of that environment and who wants to share lessons learned with others The process starts by focusing attention on the environment the physical space that constitutes the largest three dimensional object in museum collections It involves conceptualizing spaces and places of human influence spaces that contain layer upon layer documenting human struggles to survive and thrive This evidence exists in natural environments as well as city centers The process continues by adopting an environment centric view of the spaces destined to be interpreted This mind set forms the basis for devising research plans that document how humans have changed destroyed conserved and sustained spaces over time and the ways that the environment reacts Interpretation built on this evidence then becomes the basis for minds on engagement with the places that humans inhabit and the spaces that they have changed and continue to manipulate Interpreting the Environment at Museums and Historic Sites provides a tool kit designed to help you research environmental history document evidence of human influence on land and the environment over time and tailor that knowledge to new public engagement It proposes a multi disciplinary approach that requires expertise in the humanities as well as the sciences and social sciences to best understand space and place over time It incorporates case studies of the theory and method of environmental history to explore how human goals take lasting shape in the environment creating working environments getting water generating and harnessing power growing food traveling and trading building things and preserving natural landscapes Features include the Interpreting the Environment Tool Kit to help you launch the good work of interpreting the environment Raw Materials the evidence landscape ecosystems artifacts and the built environment Preparation methods thinking like a naturalist scientist thinking like a historian combining
