The purpose of this study is to investigate the place of valence as a topic in high school chemistry with a view to finding possible means of closing the gap between what is actually achieved at the secondary level and what seems to be a desirable point as which to initiate college study Some of the factors responsible for this might well be the confusion in terminology the lag between the enunciation of theories and their appearance in text books the difficulty of symbolic representation of atomic and molecular structure and the closed mind many students develop toward change The extent to which these difficulties can be resolved in the light of research studies historical development of the theory future work to be encountered and the level of maturity of the high school pupil will be considered Historical works surveys of educational research scientific and educational journals text books courses of studies and works on methodology have been consulted
