Skeptic in the House of God James L. Kelley,1997 James L Kelley a skeptic about religion writes with insight and humor of his life as a member of St Mark s an Episcopal church that welcomes doubters without pressuring them to compromise their intellectual integrity When Kelley first visited the church he was well into his forties and searching for a respite from urban malaise At the same time he found himself filled with disquieting questions How could he reconcile his convictions with the central purpose of the church to worship a God he didn t believe in Could he say the prayers and sing the hymns while remaining an honest skeptic After fifteen years of full participation in a church that is open not only to skeptics but also to gay men and lesbians blacks and Jews where members are invited to critique Sunday sermons and where hymns are rewritten to reflect feminist concerns Kelley found that his agnosticism remained but his skepticism about church participation had disappeared Modern urban life can be a sterile isolating experience yet in St Mark s Kelley discovered a place of vibrant community honest inquiry and support over the hard places in life The Harvest Is Past, The Summer Is Ended, And We Are Not Saved! ,

Transformative Religious Experience Joshua Iyadurai,2015-04-30 What makes a priest of one religion become a preacher of another religion How could a person embrace a religion suddenly that he or she had up to then opposed Why would young women risk their reputation and endanger their lives for the sake of newfound faith How could an alcoholic detest a sip of wine all of a sudden What drives an atheist to become an ardent worshiper of God How could an intelligent person relate to God as to an adult human being Transformative Religious Experience answers these questions with fascinating narratives of conversion These narratives together show how the transforming effects of conversion permeate the daily lives of converts in a multireligious context Joshua Iyadurai analyzes psychologically the mystical turning point in the conversion process and finds that the divine human encounter entails a cognitive restructuring a new set of beliefs values and desires replaces previously held religious beliefs values and desires By drawing insights from the fields of psychology sociology anthropology and theology Iyadurai develops an interdisciplinary step model from a phenomenological perspective to explain the conversion process that incorporates the religious practices and social psychological factors while giving a central place to religious experience Positive Actions Speak Louder Than Words Barbara J.
