Health Effects of the New Labour Market Kerstin Isaksson, Christer Hogstedt, Charli Eriksson, Töres Theorell, 2005-12-11 The background for the international research conference Health Hazards and Challenges in the New Working Life was the emerging questions concerning the health and social effects of the rapid changes in the labour market leading to increasing long term unemployment temporary employment and irregular employment contracts We knew that other countries have had this development at the labour market for a much longer time than Sweden has and it seemed a good idea to invite interested researchers and practitioners to an international seminar to share the relevant research findings and discuss future research needs Thus the first international interdisciplinary research conference on Health Hazards and Challenges in the New Working Life was arranged in Stockholm during the last year of the 2nd millennium but was directed towards the foreseen development during the next millennium We were very pleased that more than 200 participants came to a cold and dark country just after New Year s Eve and that it was a truly multidisciplinary setting It became very obvious that it is necessary for the occupational health and safety research community to reach out to the public health research community as well as to the social and political sciences in order to understand the determinants and to perform comprehensive analyses at several levels in this new labour market situation

Manual for Econometrics Badi H. Baltagi, 1998. This manual provides solutions to selected exercises from each chapter of Econometrics by Badi H. Baltagi, starting with Chapter 2. For the empirical exercises, some SAS programs are provided to replicate the results. Most graphs are plotted using EViews. Some of the problems and solutions are obtained from Econometric Theory (ET) and these are reprinted with the permission of Cambridge University Press. I would like to thank Peter C. B. Phillips and the editors of the Problems and Solutions section, Alberto Holly and Juan Dolado, for this useful service to the econometrics profession. I would also like to thank my colleague James M. Griffin for providing many empirical problems and data sets. I have also used three empirical data sets from Lott and Ray (1992). The reader is encouraged to apply these econometric techniques to their own data sets and to replicate the results of published articles. Some journals' authors provide data sets upon request or are readily available on the web. Other empirical examples are given in Lott and Ray (1992) and Berndt (1991). Finally, I would like to thank my students Wei Wen, Xiong Ming, Jang Weng, and Kiseok Nam, who solved several of these exercises. Please report any errors, typos, or suggestions to Badi H. Baltagi, Department of Economics, Texas A & M University, College Station, Texas 77843-4228. Telephone: 409 845 7380; Fax: 409 847 8757; or send EMAIL to Badi_econ@tamu.edu.
