Kilhams,P.A. Kukla,S. Mazur,T. McKie,H.F. Mijnlief,K. van Ojik,2018-08-31 The Southern Permian Basin as its name suggests is a historical heartland for hydrocarbon production from the Palaeozoic Rotliegend interval. However, in this mature basin, the Mesozoic presents further possibilities to offer resource security to NW Europe. Such opportunities include increasing efficiency in the production of discovered hydrocarbons, exploration for further hydrocarbons, both conventional and unconventional, and efficient exploration for and production of geothermal energy. All these potential resources require a grounding in technically sound geoscience via traditional scientific observation and the application of new technologies to unlock their value. The main aim of this volume is to bring together the work of academics and industry workers to consider cross border geoscience including contributions on Poland, Germany, The Netherlands, the United Kingdom and adjacent areas. The work presented intends to contribute to the development and discovery of further Mesozoic energy resources across the basin.

Nanotechnology, Food Security and Water Treatment K M Gothandam, Shivendu Ranjan, Nandita Dasgupta, Chidambaram Ramalingam, Eric Lichtfouse, 2018-01-08

This book reviews advanced nanotechnology in food, health, water and agriculture. In food, nanobiosensors display an unprecedented efficiency for the detection of allergens, genetically modified organisms and pathogens. In agriculture, nanofertilisers improve plant nutrition by releasing nutrients slowly and steadily. Nanomaterials synthesised using biomass such as fungi are further found remarkable to clean waters polluted by heavy metals. However, as newly introduced materials in the environment, nanoparticles may exhibit toxic effects which are reviewed in this book. In the context of climate change, methods for water desalinisation are also presented.

Enabling People-Centered Risk Communication for Geohazards

Alessandro Amato, Sally H. Potter, Anna Scolobig, Eric M. Thompson, 2024-07-18

In the field of natural hazards, communicating science with the public and stakeholders involves entering the challenging and complex world of hazard and risk communication, the ultimate purpose of which is to reduce the impact of impending hazards on people at risk. According to the Sendai Framework 2015-2030, it is important to strengthen the utilization of media, including social media, traditional media, big data and mobile phone networks to support national measures for successful disaster risk communication. Sometimes risk communication has collateral and unexpected side effects that may lead to the adoption of inadequate behaviors. In some instances, this can even result in legal actions being taken against scientists and/or emergency managers. The role of the media should be to facilitate the accurate communication of hazard and risk information, but such communication is often hampered by the fact that journalists have different agendas and priorities than scientists, risk communicators and emergency managers. This does not always support people in their decision making. Accurate communication of hazard and risk is especially important when decisions have to be made within contexts where uncertainty is very high. This is often the case with geohazards such as earthquakes, tsunamis, volcanic eruptions and landslides.
