

Background information given:

Topic: Short-term trading, international accounting, short-term debt financing

Background:

Southampton plc has been negotiating a contract with a potential customer in Russia. Before the negotiation started, the Russian company requested that it should be allowed to make the statement of Southampton. These statements were included the costs of sending the technical staff to Russia. This is the first report under the contract. The company will need information on previous contract orders and the potential for trading should the first strategy not be successful or business is lost.

The sales department has proposed the following statement showing that the contract will make a profit if it results for the sales department to produce and estimate an appropriate level of expenditure in the first 12 weeks.

Obviously the management statement will also be subject to external audit. Estimates prepared by the sales department, that the order is different and that there will be no other business at the future 12 weeks, might cause the management statement to be subject to the external audit.

Statement prepared by sales department

	£
Sales, including bonus of £100,000 (over 12 weeks)	100,000
Admin. (over 12 weeks)	20,000
Production (over 12 weeks)	20,000
Design, materials (over 12 weeks)	10,000
Administrative charges (over 12 weeks)	20,000
Materials (over 12 weeks)	10,000
Expenditure on machinery (over 12 weeks)	10,000
Total	100,000

After the investigation the management statement prepared is as follows. The costs given are management figures.

Statement from management department

Notes (1) This figure will be found in the statement.

Notes (2) This figure will include £100,000 of costs for goods that have already been received. This is the cost of sending engineers to Russia to help with the negotiations.

Notes (3) This is 10% of the cost of expenditure. It is estimated that the expenditure will appear about half the price on the contract. This cost has included a £10,000 bonus for the completion of the contract is completed on time.
