

Answer the following questions in your own words using the textbook as your source. Answer with complete sentences.

1. Use the following terms in sentences that explain the relationship between the terms:
a. genes
b. alleles

Explain each concept with regard to differences between different species. Explain how they are connected or related with genes.

2. Use the following terms in sentences that explain the relationship between the terms:
a. evolution
b. trait
c. variation

Explain each concept with regard to differences between different species and its function. Explain how they are connected or related with genes. Evolution is the change in the characteristics of a population over time. It is caused by natural selection, genetic drift, and mutation. A trait is a characteristic of an individual. Variation is the difference between individuals in a population.

3. What are the five elements of geography? Why are they important?

The five elements of geography are location, place, region, movement, and human-environment interaction. They are important because they help us understand the world and how it works. Location tells us where something is. Place tells us what something is like. Region tells us how things are grouped together. Movement tells us how things move. Human-environment interaction tells us how people and the environment affect each other.

4. What are the different characteristics of genes and traits?

Genes are the basic units of heredity. They are passed from parents to offspring. Traits are the characteristics of an organism. They are determined by genes. Genes and traits are related because genes determine traits. Genes are the instructions for making proteins, which are the building blocks of life. Traits are the characteristics of an organism, such as eye color, height, and hair color. Genes and traits are related because genes determine traits.

5. What is the function of the cell membrane? Why is it important?

The function of the cell membrane is to control what enters and leaves the cell. It is important because it keeps the cell's internal environment stable. The cell membrane is a barrier that separates the cell from its environment. It is made of phospholipids and proteins. It controls what enters and leaves the cell.

6. How do different systems affect the environment?
