

Prompt: What was the environment in which you were raised? Describe your family, home, neighborhood or community, and explain how it has shaped you as a person.

At the end of my street, there is a set of train tracks. When I was younger, my friends and I would ride our bikes to the edge of the street and look over the tracks towards the other side of town. Despite our natural curiosity and our tendency to disobey our parents, we didn't venture over to the other side of the tracks. We knew better because although trains were rare, we all remembered the funeral we all had to attend when a neighborhood boy had been struck by a train for a dare. However, there was also a greater reason for us not daring to venture over – and in this essay, I hope to tell the story of our town divided.

In truth, we were told not to wander over to the other side of the tracks because there was nothing over there for us, and that we may be hurt and never be able to return home. As I grew older, I began to realize that our town was literally a textbook example of a town divided, with one community on each side. One side was dotted with modest middle-class homes, where children played basketball on driveways and rode around on new bicycles. On the other side, poverty was rampant, and more often than not, it was populated by those of a different race. It was an unspoken rule in our town that you simply did not cross the tracks.

However, I believe that it is now a different time. The centuries-old belief of separation by social class and race is simply not a viable way of life in these modern times. I am hoping to attend college in order to expand my horizons in a way that I never dared to do as a younger child. In doing so, I believe that I will be able to gain new perspectives and understandings that will allow me to effect change in the future to dispel any existing beliefs that the other side of the tracks is forbidden.

The Poetry of the Americas Harris Feinsod, 2017-09-08 The Poetry of the Americas offers a lively and detailed history of relations among poets in the US and Latin America spanning three decades from the Good Neighbor diplomacy of World War II through the Cold War cultural policies of the late 1960s Connecting works by Mart n Ad n Elizabeth Bishop Paul Blackburn Jorge Luis Borges Julia de Burgos Ernesto Cardenal Jorge Carrera Andrade Allen Ginsberg Langston Hughes Jos Lezama Lima Pablo Neruda Charles Olson Octavio Paz Heberto Padilla Wallace Stevens Derek Walcott William Carlos Williams and many others Feinsod reveals how poets of many nations imagined a poetry of the Americas that linked multiple cultures even as it reflected the inequities of the inter American political system

This account offers a rich contextual study of the state sponsored institutions and the countercultural networks that sustained this poetry from Nelson Rockefeller's Office of the Coordinator for Inter American Affairs to the mid 1960s avant garde scene in Mexico City. This innovative literary historical project enables new readings of such canonical poems as Stevens's Notes Toward a Supreme Fiction and Neruda's The Heights of Macchu Picchu but it positions these alongside lesser known poetry translations anthologies literary journals and private correspondences culled from library archives across the Americas. The Poetry of the Americas thus broadens the horizons of reception and mutual influence and of formal historical and political possibility through which we encounter midcentury American poetry recasting traditional categories of U.S. or Latin American literature within a truly hemispheric vision.
