

How Pervasive Is Language Education?

Yves Helmer (standing) explains to two participating post- and degree students the ways to make use of language resources. They examine a text together, comparing their notes to several passages in a dictionary and Latin lexicon. Helmer is interested in promoting self-education to cover the teaching and learning of languages with others as a higher-level, transnational, cross-national practice and to improve learning in the high school and college levels. "Yves Helmer is working with us on the initiative and to facilitate the field of language resources and online technology. The participants share new online resources. This online course has made the use of such tools."
