Critical Multicultural Analysis of Children's Literature Maria José Botelho, Masha Kabakow Rudman, 2009-05-07

Children's literature is a contested terrain as is multicultural education. Taken together they pose a formidable challenge to both classroom teachers and academics. Rather than deny the inherent conflicts and tensions in the field in Critical Multicultural Analysis of Children's Literature: Mirrors, Windows and Doors, Maria Jos Botelho and Masha Kabakow Rudman confront, deconstruct and reconstruct these terrains by proposing a reframing of the field. Surely all of us children teachers and academics can benefit from this more expansive understanding of what it means to read books. Sonia Nieto. From the Foreword. Critical multicultural analysis provides a philosophical shift for teaching literature, constructing curriculum and taking up issues of diversity and social justice. It problematizes children's literature, offers a way of reading power, explores the complex web of sociopolitical relations and deconstructs taken-for-granted assumptions about language, meaning, reading and literature. It is literary study as sociopolitical change. Bringing a critical lens to the study of multiculturalism in children's literature, this book prepares teachers, teacher educators and researchers of children's literature to analyze the ideological dimensions of reading and studying literature. Each chapter includes recommendations for classroom application, classroom research and further reading. Helpful end-of-book appendixes include a list of children's book awards, lists of publishers, diagrams of the power continuum and the theoretical framework of critical multicultural analysis, and lists of selected children's literature journals and online resources.

Cajun Women and Mardi Gras Carolyn E. Ware, 2024-03-18

Cajun Women and Mardi Gras is the first book to explore the importance of women's contributions to the country. Cajun Mardi Gras tradition or Mardi Gras run. Most Mardi Gras runs masked begging processions through the countryside led by unmasked capitaines, have customarily excluded women. Male organizers explain that this rule protects not only the tradition's integrity but also women themselves from the event's rowdy, often drunken play. Throughout the past twentieth century and especially in the past fifty years, women in some prairie communities have insisted on taking more active and public roles in the festivities. Carolyn E. Ware traces the history of women's participation as it has expanded from supportive roles as cooks and costume makers to increasingly public performances as Mardi Gras clowns and in at least one community capitaines. Drawing on more than a decade of fieldwork interviews and observation in Mardi Gras communities Ware focuses on the festive actions in Tee Mamou and Basile to reveal how women are reshaping the celebration as creative artists and innovative performers Annual Reports of the President and the Treasurer Oberlin College,1921 The Annual Report of the Boston Lying-in Hospital for the Year ...
