Beautiful, Being an Empowered Young Woman Naomi Katz,2016-04-20 I was a seventh grade teacher while I was living in New York City and many of my students were attractive young women who looked a lot more like college students than middle school kids Were they getting called out and leered at too Lara was in eighth grade She was very tall and thin and looked like a supermodel She knew it and liked to dress a little too skimpily for my taste But I love her anyway We were very close and I knew if I asked her a question she'd answer me honestly Lara can I ask you something Sure Katzie what's up When you're walking around on the street do random guys call you out and tell you things they want to do to you OH MY GOD All the time I heard a real sense of relief in her voice How does it make you feel Horrible Like a piece of meat We talked about the problem for a long time At the end of the conversation I had really mixed feelings On one hand I felt better that I was not the only person who suffered this kind of treatment On the other hand I felt a lot worse because not only did I have to deal with this but now I realized that my students middle school girls were being catcalled on the street by men who were probably at least twice their age This I decided was NOT COOL I had to do something about it Positive Thinking First of all you should know that it is normal for you to be feeling insecure and unsure of yourself You are going through a tough time during which it seems as if everything about you is wrong It's easy to hate on yourself when the pictures of beauty you see don't look like you It's even easier to hate on yourself when your friends are judging the way you look and act every day The truth is though that they are judging and criticizing because they share the same insecurities I'm not sure that helps you but at least keep it in mind the next time you feel bad about yourself because of something a friend says She's probably saying it because she feels bad about herself In this book I try to be honest with you about what I've learned about being a teenage girl I've learned these things from my own life as well as from the experiences of my students I'm sharing them with you because I think that we can do a lot better We shouldn't have to feel insecure and we certainly shouldn't feel like we have to compete with the women around us to feel better about ourselves We should be able to feel good about ourselves and be proud of the strong beautiful interesting capable young women we are I hope my words can help you do just that
