Regulating Content on Social Media Corinne Tan,2018-03-26 How are users influenced by social media platforms when they generate content and does this influence affect users compliance with copyright laws These are pressing questions in today s internet age and Regulating Content on Social Media answers them by analysing how the behaviours of social media users are regulated from a copyright perspective Corinne Tan an internet governance specialist compares copyright laws on selected social media platforms namely Facebook Pinterest YouTube Twitter and Wikipedia with other regulatory factors such as the terms of service and the technological features of each platform This comparison enables her to explore how each platform affects the role copyright laws play in securing compliance from their users Through a case study detailing the content generative activities undertaken by a hypothetical user named Jane Doe as well as drawing from empirical studies the book argues that in spite of copyright s purported regulation of certain behaviours users are nudged by the social media platforms themselves to behave in ways that may be inconsistent with copyright laws Praise for Regulating Content on Social Media This book makes an important contribution to the field of social media and copyright It tackles the real issue of how social media is designed to encourage users to engage in generative practices in a sense effectively

Creative Control Michael L. Siciliano, 2021-03-02 Workers in cultural industries often say that the best part of their job is the opportunity for creativity At the same time profit minded managers at both traditional firms and digital platforms exhort workers to be creative Even as cultural fields hold out the prospect of meaningful employment they are marked by heightened economic precarity What does it mean to be creative under contemporary capitalism And how does the ideology of creativity explain workers commitment to precarious jobs Michael L Siciliano draws on nearly two years of ethnographic research as a participant observer in a Los Angeles music studio and a multichannel YouTube network to explore the contradictions of creative work He details how such workplaces feature engaging dynamic processes that enlist workers in organizational projects and secure their affective investment in ideas of creativity and innovation Siciliano argues that performing creative labor entails a profound ambivalence workers experience excitement and aesthetic engagement alongside precarity and alienation Through close comparative analysis he presents a theory of creative labor that accounts for the roles of embodiment power alienation and technology in the contemporary workplace Combining vivid ethnographic detail and keen sociological insight Creative Control explains why cool jobs help us understand how workers can participate in their own exploitation
