Zambian 2014 Exmination Paper For Civics

Lauren Honig

Zambian 2014 Examination Paper For Civics:

E-Government Kelvin J. Bwalya, Stephen M. Mutula, 2014-09-12 E Government is a hot topic The integration of Information and Communication Technologies into public service delivery worldwide offers a number of promising opportunities This text refers in particular to the benefits derived from ubiquitous access to and delivery of government services to citizens business partners and employees This book analyses the fundamental technical and non technical concepts that are essential for successful implementation of e Government in diverse environments especially in developing countries This book is an indispensable resource for both e Government practitioners and researchers in that it brings to the fore scholarly scrutiny scientific debate and best practice in e Government The author has a background in computer and information science and accentuates the multi disciplinary nature of the issues surrounding e Government

Extraterritorial investments in agriculture in Africa: the perspectives of China and South Africa Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations ,2020-11-30 The 2008 global food price crisis and the resurgence of food prices in 2010 2011 caused both widespread concern and expectations On the one hand countries whose food supply depends on procuring food from international markets saw food price spikes as threats to their national food security On the other hand investors saw in these price spikes an opportunity to make profitable investments in agriculture Either as threat or opportunity food price spikes raised interest in Africa whose lands are fertile and have unrealised potential Concerns of a possible land acquisitions in Africa and in particular the impacts of Large Scale Land Based Investments in Agriculture LSLBIA on local communities became prominent policy and academic themes Unfortunately quantifying the phenomenon has proved hard due to the difficulty of finding empirical evidence As a result debates are either theoretical or based on anecdotal evidence This publication thus explores a different path and explores the reasons why entities from China and South Africa were interested in investing in African agriculture This publication examines the reasons why investors were interested in Africa and the relationship that these bear to The Voluntary Guidelines on the Responsible Governance of Tenure of Land Fisheries and Forests in the Context of National Food Security the Voluntary Guidelines or VGGT While primarily aimed at governments the VGGT also contain important provisions that are applicable to the private sector They focus on helping investors pursue their projects in ways that recognise and respect legitimate tenure rights and human rights In addition the VGGT also contain provisions and encourages good practices for responsible investment in land forests and fisheries The VGGT are a valuable tool for helping investors minimise risk while also safeguarding the rights of local communities China and South Africa represent important sources of LSLBIA in Africa although the bulk of such investment comes from western countries Their investment may intensify in the future for a variety of reasons First China has the third largest land area in the world but its expansion through additional land use is limited Second the dual agricultural economy of South Africa is preventing commercial farming located in well endowed areas from expanding into remote resource poor areas where small scale subsistence based production is prevalent This publication assesses the extent to which selected investors from China and South Africa and the governments of those countries have adopted the best practices represented by the VGGT in relation to LSLBIA in Public Participation in African Constitutionalism Tania Abbiate, Markus Böckenförde, Veronica Federico, 2017-11-22 During the last decade of the 20th century Africa has been marked by a constitutional wind which has blown across the continent giving impetus to constitutional reforms designed to introduce constitutionalism and good governance One of the main features of these processes has been the promotion of public participation encouraged by both civil society and the international community This book aims to provide a systematic overview of participation forms and mechanisms across Africa and a critical understanding of the impact of public participation in constitution making processes digging beneath the rhetoric of public participation as being at the heart of any successful transition towards democracy and constitutionalism Using case studies from Central African Republic Egypt Kenya Libya Malawi Morocco Senegal Somalia South Africa South Sudan Tanzania Tunisia Zambia and Zimbabwe the book investigates various aspects of participatory constitution making from conception to processes and specific contents that trigger ambivalent dynamics in such processes The abstract glorification of public participation is questioned as theoretical and empirical perspectives are used to explain what public participation does in concrete terms and to identify what lessons might be drawn from those experiences This is a valuable resource for academics researchers and students with an interest in politics and constitution building in Africa as well as experts working in national offices international organizations or in national and international NGOs

Food, Energy and Water Sustainability Laura M. Pereira, Caitlin A. McElroy, Alexandra Littaye, Alexandra M. Girard, 2017-10-16 Societies around the world face an increasingly uncertain future as social and ecological changes create pressure on resource governance and this uncertainty calls for new models that illuminate the intersections of civil society public sector and private sector resource management This volume presents a diversity of collaborations between various governance actors in the management of the Food Energy Water FEW nexus It analyses the ability of emergent governance structures to cope with the complexity of future challenges across FEW systems Divided into two sections chapters in the first half of the book present a collection of case studies from around the world exemplifying how FEW nexus challenges are addressed in a multitude of ways and by a variety of actors Chapters in the second half offer broader perspectives on the management of FEW and underline the lessons that emerge from applying a FEW lens to the question of natural resource governance The varied examples in this book highlight that the management of FEW is often a question of reinventing adapting and building upon existing practices Such practices are deeply embedded in unique socio cultural environmental and political contexts as well as hard infrastructures Most of all this edited volume seeks to communicate the wealth of ideas from committed individuals who continue to work to improve natural resource governance and our sustainable futures

Education for All 2000-2015: Achievements and challenges UNESCO,2015-04-08 Literaturverz S 414 459 The Oxford Handbook of the Zambian Economy,2024-08-23 This handbook offers a comprehensive and authoritative account of the Zambian economy including past and current trends The Zambian economy has evolved from simple and fragmented agrarian activities at the turn of the 20th Century into a wide range of organized and regulated modern economic activities today While the economy has largely revolved around the mining industry since the early 1920s when the extraction of copper and other mineral ores on the Copperbelt begun there has been a gradual broadening of economic activities over time with services now accounting for almost two thirds of gross domestic product GDP This book shows that since colonial times one of the persistent items on the economic development agenda in what is today known as Zambia has been the need to diversify the economy to reduce dependence on mining in terms of foreign exchange earnings and public revenue While the need to diversify the economy has been well acknowledged by successive Zambia governments including the current government achieving this goal has proved to be elusive so far By presenting a collection of well researched and empirically supported chapters on the key areas of the Zambian economy this volume gives readers a good sense of where the Zambian economy has come from where it is at the moment but also highlights the challenges and prospects for economic growth

Postcolonial Legality: Law, Power and Politics in Zambia Jeremy Gould,2023-03-24 This book interrogates the ideology and practices of liberal constitutionalism in the Zambian postcolony The analysis focuses on the residual political and governmental effects of an imperial form of power embodied in the person of the republican president termed here prerogativism Through systematic long term ethnographic engagement with Zambian constitutionalist activists lawyers judges and civic leaders the study examines how prerogativism has shaped the postcolonial political landscape and limited the possibilities of constitutional liberalism This is revealed in the ways that repeated efforts to reform the constitution have sidelined popular participation and thus failed to address the deep divide between a small elite stratum from which the constitutional activists are drawn and the marginalized masses of the population Along the way the study documents the intimate interpenetration of political and legal action and examines how prerogativism delimits the political engagements of elite actors Special attention is given to the reluctance of legal activists to engage with popular politics and to the conservative ethos that undermines efforts to pursue a jurisprudence of transformational constitutionalism in the findings of the Constitutional Court The work contributes to the rising interest in applying socio legal analysis to the statutory domain in postcolonial jurisdictions It offers a pioneering attempt to deconstruct the amorphous and ambivalent assemblage of ideas and practices related to constitutionalism through detailed ethnographic interrogation It will appeal to scholars students and practitioners with an interest in theorizing challenges to political liberalism in postcolonial contexts as well as in rethinking the methodological toolbox of socio legal analysis

Consolidated guidance on tuberculosis data generation and use. Module 3. National tuberculosis prevalence surveys World Health Organization, 2025-07-10 National TB prevalence surveys are a key tool used by WHO to estimate the burden of TB disease in a country Repeat surveys allow for the assessment of trends and of the impact of interventions to reduce the burden of disease thus helping to track progress towards the milestones and targets for reductions in TB incidence set in the WHO End TB Strategy Between 2007 and 2024 a total of 36 surveys in 32 countries were implemented using the screening and diagnostic methods recommended by WHO These surveys were guided by two WHO publications first in 2007 and then in 2011 Since then major technological developments have occurred and important lessons have been learned from surveys implemented This new edition is intended to support the design implementation analysis and reporting of national TB prevalence surveys in the period up to about 2030 It includes major revisions to the diagnostic algorithms that are recommended for use in national TB prevalence surveys and in turn the case definitions used to count the number of survey participants who have TB disease updated guidance on sampling design and the analysis and reporting of data based on the new diagnostic algorithms and case definitions updated and considerably expanded guidance on data management updated guidance on chest radiography clinical management survey management and field operations and new chapters on testing for HIV and comorbidities survey monitoring comparisons with previous surveys reporting and dissemination of survey results and use of survey data

One Health Kevin Bardosh, 2016-02-12 Zoonotic diseases pathogens transmitted from animals to people offer particularly challenging problems for global health institutions and actors given the complex social ecological dynamics at play New forms of risk caused by unprecedented global connectivity and rapid social and environmental change demand new approaches One Health highlights the need for collaboration across sectors and disciplines to tackle zoonotic diseases However there has been little exploration of how social political and economic contexts influence efforts to do One Health This book fills this gap by offering a much needed political economy analysis of zoonosis research and policy Through ethnographic qualitative and quantitative data the book draws together a diverse number of case studies These include chapters exploring global narratives about One Health operationalization and prevailing institutional bottlenecks the evolution of research networks over time and the histories and politics behind conflicting disease control approaches The themes from these chapters are further contextualized and expanded upon through country specific case studies from Kenya Zambia Nigeria Ghana and Sierra Leone exploring the translation of One Health research and policy into the African context This book is a valuable resource for academic researchers students and policy practitioners in the areas of global health agriculture and development

Urban and Regional Planning Education Ashok Kumar, Diwakar S. Meshram, Krishne Gowda, 2016-04-27 This is the first volume exclusively dedicated to planning education with a focus on India and learning from global experiences for India Prior to the 1990s planning education in India was largely confined to national and local economic concerns Within a globalized scenario such pedagogies and theories have become outmoded With new concerns emerging in planning new pedagogical tools and theorizations need to be developed within planning curricula to provide today's planners with the wherewithal to adapt to changing and globalizing cities and regions in India Therefore the eminent contributors to this volume deal exclusively and comprehensively with planning education in a globalized context Divided into four thematic sections this volume provides a comprehensive view of planning education in India with focus on The trajectory of planning education in India The kinds of knowledge used for teaching in Indian planning schools and whether some sort of integration of diverse knowledges is achieved The ethical foundations of urban and regional planning in Indian planning schools The role of international planning perspectives in providing new insights for Indian planning education Comprehensive and topical this volume is of interest to academics and researchers from planning institutes urban and regional planners and policy makers as well as architects social geographers and economists

Public Examinations Examined Thomas Kellaghan, Vincent Greaney, 2019-11-19 High stakes public examinations exert a dominant influence in most education systems They affect both teacher and student behavior especially at the middle and upper levels of secondary education The content of past examinations tends to dictate what is taught and how it is taught and more important what is learned and how it is learned By changing aspects of these examinations especially their content and format education systems can have a strong positive impact on teacher behavior and student learning help raise student achievement levels and better prepare students for tertiary level education and for employment Examination agencies many of which have followed the same procedures over decades can learn from the successes and failures of other systems This book addresses current issues related to the development administration scoring and usage of these high stakes public examinations identifying key issues and problems related to examinations in many emerging market economies as well as in advanced economies The book's primary audience consists of public examination officials on national regional and state examination boards but the book should also be of interest to senior education policy makers concerned with certification and learning achievement standards to academics and researchers interested in educational assessment to governmental and education agencies responsible for student selection and to professionals at development organizations This extremely well written and comprehensive book offers a timely review of the diversity of public examination practices worldwide of the

tensions between examinations and learning and of the technical expertise involved in the creation of valid reliable and fair assessments It reminds us that as the diploma disease takes hold with an ever greater intensity at every stage of education worldwide and the commercial business of testing flourishes those concerned with educational quality and meaningful learning must be on guard to prevent the assessment tail wagging the educational dog Angela W Little Professor Emerita Institute of Education University College London This book is very well structured and written and draws on the authors remarkable global knowledge across countries and histories It will be a great asset both to administrators responsible for examinations and to academics and other professionals who seek to understand the nature and impact of examinations of different types and in different settings Mark Bray UNESCO Chair Professor of Comparative Education University of Hong Kong and former Director UNESCO International Institute for Educational Planning I am sure that Public Examinations Examined which thoroughly analyzes the practice of public examinations in different countries and makes profound and well grounded conclusions will arouse very great interest and will serve to further improve public examinations Victor Bolotov Distinguished Professor Higher School of Economics National Research University Moscow member Russian Academy of Education and former Deputy Minister of Education Russian Federation Land Politics Lauren Honig,2022-08-25 Land Politics examines the struggle to control land in Africa through the lens of land titling in Zambia and Senegal Contrary to standard wisdom portraying titling as an inevitable product of economic development Lauren Honig traces its distinctly political logic and shows how informality is maintained by local actors The book s analysis focuses on chiefs customary institutions and citizens revealing that the strength of these institutions and an individual s position within them impact the expansion of state authority over land rights Honig explores common subnational patterns within the two very different countries to highlight the important effects of local institutions not the state s capacity or priorities alone on state building outcomes Drawing on evidence from national land titling records qualitative case studies interviews and surveys this book contributes new insights into the persistence of institutional legacies and the political determinants of property rights guidance for General Studies and CSAT Paper I II Youth Entrepreneurship and Africa's Sustainable Industrialization Farai Kapfudzaruwa, Masafumi Nagao, Emmanuel Mutisya, 2018-10-18 This book investigates the prospects of Africa's sustainable industrialization with an emphasis on youth entrepreneurship and the mechanisms in place to support both industrial and corporate entrepreneurs The volume addresses two specific issues first industrialization and youth entrepreneurship and secondly youth entrepreneurship training and education The emphasis on youth entrepreneurship to drive sustainable industrialization in Africa is driven by three points first Africa's industrialization is still at its inception with severely limited existing stock of entrepreneurial talents which makes it imperative to look to the continent's bulging youth population the population dividend for the needed supply of successive generations of entrepreneurs Secondly sustainable industrialization would have to be oriented to green ICT and inclusive growth which calls for a change in entrepreneurs attitudes Finally at the centre of the Africa Rising narrative is a budding new cheetah generation of young entrepreneurs who are highly educated professional and motivated by the need to set up new business models and practices to compete in the Fourth Industrial Revolution This volume forms part of an Education for Sustainable Development in Africa ESDA book series involving the United Nations University Institute for the Advanced Study of Sustainability and 8 partner African universities running Master's Programs in sustainable development The book series is intended to serve primarily as undergraduate and graduate instruction materials for courses on sustainable development in Africa as well as policy input to key developmental issues in Africa
