Australian Edition Robert Reys, Mary Lindquist, Diana V. Lambdin, Nancy L. Smith, Anna Rogers, Leicha Bragg, Audrey Cooke, Melissa Fanshawe, Mark Gronow, 2025-10-10 Improving Reading and Reading Engagement in the 21st Century Clarence Ng, Brendan Bartlett, 2017-05-31 This book presents cutting edge research findings in areas critical to advancing reading research in the 21st century context including new literacies reading motivation strategy instruction and reading intervention studies While students reading performance is currently receiving unprecedented attention there is a lack of research that adopts an international perspective and draws on research expertise from different parts of the world to

present a concerted effort discussing key research models and findings on how to improve reading education Addressing this gap in the literature the book also responds to the challenge of promoting higher levels of literacy and supporting and developing readers who can enjoy and critique texts of every genre National Testing in Schools Bob Lingard,Greg Thompson,Sam Sellar,2015-11-06

Over the last two decades large scale national or provincial standardised testing has become prominent in the schools of many countries around the globe National Testing in Schools An Australian Assessment draws on research to consider the nature of national testing and its multiple effects including media responses and constructions such as league tables of performance pressures within school systems and on schools effects on the work and identities of principals and teachers and impacts on the experience of schooling for many young people including those least advantaged Using Australia as the case site for global concerns regarding national testing this book will be an invaluable companion for education researchers teacher educators teacher education students and teachers globally Performativity in Education Annette Rasmussen,Jan Gustafsson,Bob Jeffrey,2014-09-01 A powerful policy of performativity now exists in which the pupils teachers and schools are held responsible for performance and at the same time these systems are used for stratification of these groups These performative policies are underpinned by a major global policy to improve economic status and social well being a market based approach that encourages performance based activity Performativity is a technology a culture and mode of regulation that employs judgements and comparisons and displays the performances of individual subjects or organisations to serve as measures of productivity Policy makers believe it raises standards in schools and achievement levels of the mass of the population In setting targets for Regional Local District Education Authorities and schools governments hope to develop a highly skilled workforce that can compete in what it sees as a new global industry the knowledge economy It is argued that a higher skills base and higher levels of excellence in knowledge acquisition and the best use of that knowledge the higher the economic return will be for national States This international collection focuses on the experience of students from the age of four to adulthood across seven different countries Australia Denmark England Germany Ireland Sweden and the USA Young children and students performative identities are constructed as they become enculturated self designations and self attributions brought into play during the course of interaction These are imputed identities which a performative learner takes on as they experience everyday discourse practice and engage in social acclimatisation Researching learners gives an insight into the power and influence of teaching and learning practices discourses have on the practices of the self They cannot avoid the discourses but they seek to find ways to manage them and occasionally resist them in order to maintain social relations and social cohesion within their social context This global collection of articles brings out the ways in which performativity affects students the tensions created and some strategies to manage performative contexts It will therefore be of interest to all sectors of education and to readers from across the globe

Diversity in Mathematics Education Alan Bishop,Hazel Tan,Tasos N Barkatsas,2014-09-20 This book presents a research focus on diversity and inclusivity in mathematics education The challenge of diversity largely in terms of student profiles or contextual features is endemic in mathematics education and is often argued to require differentiation as a response Typically different curricula text materials task structures or pedagogies are favoured responses but huge differences in achievement still result If we in mathematics education seek to challenge that status quo more research must be focussed not just on diversity but also on the inclusivity of practices in mathematics education The book is written by a group of experienced collaborating researchers who share this focus It is written for researchers research students teachers and in service professionals who recognise both the challenges but also the opportunities of creating and evaluating new inclusive approaches to curriculum and pedagogy ones that take for granted the positive values of diversity Several chapters report new research in this direction The authors are part of or have visited with the mathematics education staff of the Faculty of Education at Monash University in Melbourne Australia The chapters all focus on the ideas of development in both research and practice

recognising that the current need is for new inclusive approaches The studies presented are set in different contexts including Australia China the United States and Singapore World Culture Re-Contextualised Jürgen Schriewer, 2017-10-02 Impressive strands of research have shown the emergent reality of increasing world level interconnection in almost every field of social action As a consequence theories and models have been developed which are aimed at conceptualising this new reality along the lines of an institutionalised World Culture This offers a new understanding of the worldwide diffusion of specifically modern i e mainly Western rules ideologies and organisational patterns and of attendant harmonisation and standardisation of fields of social action World Culture theories have not gone unchallenged Rather cross cultural studies have revealed much more complex processes of regional fragmentation and re diversification of the refraction appropriation and hybridisation through distinct socio cultural conditioning of world level models and ideas and of the ongoing effectiveness both of structural path dependencies and of specifically cultural aspects such as collective memories social meanings and religious or ideological belief systems Comparative research has thus highlighted an intricate simultaneity of contrary currents of the increasing world level interconnection of communication and exchange relations on the one hand and on the other the persistence of context specific interpretations translations and deviation generating re contextualisations of world level forces and challenges This research provides the theoretical problematique that animates this volume The chapters explore the conceptual tools and explanatory power of theories and models which do not just oppose or reject World Culture theory but are instead suited to complementing and differentiating it The volume offers an enlightening conceptualisation of the intricate interaction of global processes with local agency and of world level forces with the self evolutionary potentials inherent in specific contexts socio cultural structures and distinctive meanings constellations This book was originally published as a special issue of Comparative Education
