Momcilovic, 2020-05-15 The field of memory studies has long been preoccupied with the manner in which events from the past are commemorated forgotten re-fashioned or worked through on both the individual and collective level Yet in an age when various modes of artistic and cultural commemoration have begun to overlap with and respond to one another the dynamics of cultural remembering and forgetting become bound up in an increasingly elaborate network of representations that operate both within and outside temporal cultural and national borders As publicly circulating texts that straddle the line between cultural artifact and artistic object both musical and literary works both individually and often in conjunction with one another help shape cultural memories and individual experiences of those events Troping their cultural milieux through specific aesthetic and social forms genres and modes of dissemination music and literature become part of a growing global panoply of raw materials upon which we might begin to pose questions regarding the way we remember the consequences of sharing and passing on those memories and the aesthetic and cultural pressures attendant upon the circulation and interpretation of texts that re-sound the past The Last Leaf Stuart Lutz, 2010-09-09 When we read about famous historical events we may wonder about the firsthand experiences of the people directly involved What insights could be gained if we could talk to someone who remembered the Civil War or the battle to win the vote for women or Thomas Edison's struggles to create the first electric light bulb Amazingly many of these experiences are still preserved in living memory by the final survivors of important world-changing events In this unique oral history book author and historic document specialist Stuart Lutz records the stories told to him personally by people who witnessed many of history's most famous events Among many others Lutz interviewed the final three Civil War widows one Union and two Confederate the final pitcher to surrender a home run to Babe Ruth the last suffragette the last living person to fly with Amelia Earhart the final American World War I soldier the last surviving employees of Thomas Edison F Scott Fitzgerald and Harry Houdini The wide ranging stories involve humor the 1920 Olympic medalist who stole the original Olympic flag tragedy the last survivor of the 1915 Lusitania sinking heroism the final Medal of Honor recipient for actions on Pearl Harbor Day and eyewitnesses to great events one of the last scientists at the first nuclear chain reaction and the final Iwo Jima flag raiser In more than three dozen chapters Lutz blends background information in a lively narrative with the words of the interviewees so that readers not familiar with the historical episodes described can understand what occurred and the long term significance of the events A book that truly makes the past come alive The Last Leaf will fascinate not only history buffs but anyone who likes a good story Stuart Lutz Short Hills NJ is the owner of Stuart Lutz Historic Documents Inc a firm that buys sells and appraises historic documents letters and rare manuscripts He has written for American Heritage and Civil War Times and he has appeared on National Public Radio More on Stuart Lutz and The Last Leaf can be found at www TheLastLeaf com

Automate This Christopher Steiner, 2012-08-30 The rousing story of the last gasp of human agency and how today's best and brightest minds are endeavoring to put an end to it It used to be that to diagnose an illness interpret legal documents analyze foreign policy or write a newspaper article you needed a human being with specific skills and maybe an advanced degree or two These days high level tasks are increasingly being handled by algorithms that can do precise work not only with speed but also with nuance These bots started with human programming and logic but now their reach extends beyond what their creators ever expected In this fascinating frightening book Christopher Steiner tells the story of how algorithms took over and shows why the bot revolution is about to spill into every aspect of our lives often silently without our knowledge The May 2010 Flash Crash exposed Wall Street's reliance on trading bots to the tune of a 998 point market drop and 1 trillion in vanished market value But that was just the beginning In Automate This we meet bots that are driving cars penning haiku and writing music mistaken for Bach's They listen in on our customer service calls and figure out what Iran would do in the event of a nuclear standoff There are algorithms that can pick out the most cohesive crew of astronauts for a space mission or identify the next Jeremy Lin Some can even ingest statistics from baseball games and spit out pitch perfect sports journalism indistinguishable from that produced by humans The interaction of man and machine can make our lives easier But what will the world look like when algorithms control our hospitals our roads our culture and our national security What happens to businesses when we automate judgment and eliminate human instinct And what role will be left for doctors lawyers writers truck drivers and many others Who knows maybe there's a bot learning to do your job this minute
