Dreadful Desires Charlie Yi Zhang,2022-02-07 In Dreadful Desires Charlie Yi Zhang examines how the Chinese state deploys affective notions of love to regulate the population and secure China s place in the global economy Zhang shows how the state frames love as a set of desires that encompass heteronormative intimacy familial and communal attachment upward mobility and private property ownership These desires as circulated in performance in the nationalistic ceremony same sex romantic fan fiction the wildly popular reality television dating show If You Are the One and the cult of patriarchal personality around Xi Jinping are explicitly based in oppressive systems of gender class and sexuality Zhang contends that such desires connect love to economic survival and gender normativity in ways that underwrite Chinese neoliberalism at the expense of individual flourishing By outlining how state framed forms of love create desires that cannot be fulfilled Zhang places China at the forefront of using affective attachments to nation leader and family in the global shifts toward exploitation and authoritarianism

Online Society in China David Kurt Herold,Peter Marolt,2011-03-25 This book discusses the rich and varied culture of China s online society and its impact on offline China It argues that the internet in China is a separate space in which individuals and institutions emerge and interact While offline and online spaces are connected and influence each other the Chinese internet is more than merely a technological or media extension of offline Chinese society Instead of following existing studies by locating online China in offline society the contributors in this book discuss the carnival of the Chinese internet on its own terms Examining the complex relationship between government officials and the people using the Internet in China this book demonstrates that culture is highly influential in how technology is used. Discussing a wide range of different activities the contributors examine what Chinese people actually do on the internet and how their actions can be interpreted within the online society they are creating.

Disorienting Politics Fan Yang, 2024-06-03 Disorienting Politics mines 21st century media artifacts including films like The Martian and TV streaming media shows such as Firefly and House of Cards to make visible the economic cultural political and ecological entanglements of China and the United States. Describing these transpacific entanglements as Chimerica coined by economic historians to reference the symbiosis of China and America Yang examines how Chimerican media originating in the US but traversing national boundaries in their production circulation and consumption co create the figure of rising China and extend a political imagination beyond the conventional ground of the nation. Examining how Chimerican media are shaped by and perpetuate uneven power relations Disorienting Politics argues that the pervasive tendency among wide ranging cultural producers to depict the Chinese state as a racialized Other in American media life diminishes the possibility of engaging transpacific entanglements as a basis for envisioning new political horizons. Such othering of China not only results in overt racism against people of Asian descent Yang argues but also impacts the wellbeing of people of color more generally. This interdisciplinary book demonstrates the ways in which race is embedded in geopolitics even when the subject of discussion is not the people but the Chinese state. Bridging media and cultural studies Asian and Asian American studies geography and globalization studies Disorienting Politics calls for a relational politics that acknowledges the multifarious interconnectivity between people places media and environment.

Soy, Globalization, and Environmental Politics in South America Gustavo de L. T. Oliveira, Susanna B. Hecht, 2017-10-24 Soy in South America constitutes one of the most spectacular booms of agro industrial commodity production in the world. It is the pinnacle of modernist agro industrial practices serving as a key nexus in food feed fuel production that underpins the agribusiness conservationist discourse of land sparing through intensification. Yet soy production is implicated in multiple problems beyond deforestation ranging from pesticide drift and contamination to social exclusion and conflicts in frontier zones to concentration of wealth and income among the largest landowners and corporations. This book explores in depth the complex dynamics of soy production from its diverse social settings to its transnational connections examining the politics of commodity and knowledge production the role of the state and the reach of corporate power in everyday life across soy landscapes in South America. Ultimately the collection encourages us to search and struggle for agroecological alternatives through which we may overcome the pitfalls of this massive transnational capitalist agro industry. This book was originally published as a special issue of The Journal of Peasant Studies.

Ninja Stephen Turnbull, 2020-01-31 This history of the ninja uncovers the truth behind the image from the exploits of medieval ninjas to their modern incarnation as pop culture icons.
