

A person is shown in a yoga pose, specifically a variation of the Warrior II (Virabhadrasana II). The person's body is overlaid with a vibrant, multi-colored energy field or aura. The colors transition from a bright yellow at the head, through orange and red in the torso, to deep purple and blue in the legs. The background is a dark, textured surface, possibly water, with a dark blue sky above. The overall mood is serene and spiritual.

Yoga in Modern India Joseph S. Alter, 2021-05-11 Yoga has come to be an icon of Indian culture and civilization and it is widely regarded as being timeless and unchanging Based on extensive ethnographic research and an analysis of both ancient and modern texts Yoga in Modern India challenges this popular view by examining the history of yoga focusing on its emergence in modern India and its dramatically changing form and significance in the twentieth century Joseph Alter argues that yoga's transformation into a popular activity idolized for its health value is based on modern ideas about science and medicine Alter centers his analysis on an interpretation of the seminal work of Swami Kuvalayananda one of the chief architects of the Yoga Renaissance in the early twentieth century From this point of orientation he explores current interpretations of yoga and considers how practitioners of yogic medicine and fitness combine the ideas of biology physiology and anatomy with those of metaphysics transcendence and magical power The first serious ethnographic history of modern yoga in India this fluently written book is a must reading not only for students and scholars but also practitioners who seek a deeper understanding of how yoga developed over time into the exceedingly popular phenomenon it is today

Yoga, Meditation, and Mysticism Kenneth Rose, 2016-09-08 Contemplative experience is central to Hindu yoga traditions Buddhist meditation practices and Catholic mystical theology and despite doctrinal differences it expresses itself in suggestively similar meditative landmarks in each of these three meditative systems In Yoga Meditation and Mysticism Kenneth Rose shifts the dominant focus of contemporary religious studies away from tradition specific studies of individual religious traditions communities and practices to examine the contemplative universals that arise globally in meditative experience Through a comparative exploration of the itineraries detailed in the contemplative manuals of Theravada Buddhism Patanjali Yoga and Catholic mystical theology Rose identifies in each tradition a moment of sharply focused awareness that marks the threshold between immersion in mundane consciousness and contemplative insight As concentration deepens the meditator steps through this threshold onto a globally shared contemplative itinerary which leads through a series of virtually identical stages to mental stillness and insight Rose argues that these contemplative universals familiar to experienced contemplatives in multiple traditions point to a common spiritual mental and biological heritage Pioneering the exploration of contemplative practice and experience with a comparative perspective that ranges over multiple religious traditions religious studies philosophy neuroscience and the cognitive science of religion this book is a landmark contribution to the fields of contemplative practice and religious studies
