RE: Letter of Expectation

Human Resources and I met with you on January 31st, 2020 to discuss some concerns made by a coworker about interactions between you and this coworker in X department. The coworker in particular has expressed her belief that you have yelled at her on occasion, that you have shown a lack of respect for her, including non-professional behavior toward her, and that you have been demanding of her time.

You indicated in the discussion that you share her frustrations and that you would like to build a deeper professional working connection with her. You also expressed your opinion that this coworker lacks respect for you and is not always professional while dealing with you.

A written notification of expectation is required based on the totality of the facts. Following the Code of Conduct and the County Core Competencies, I expect you to fulfill the tasks of your position professionally, which includes adhering to the following expectations:

- You will be responsible for your activities and attitude when engaging with staff and coworkers
- You will use your conflict resolution skills while dealing with staff and coworker
- You will be courteous of all staff members and their significance within this organization

Furthermore, methods for effective contact with your coworker were discussed, and it was determined to use an Outlook shared calendar. It will be up to you and your coworkers to manage and keep the calendar up to date.

You can reach me anytime you have questions or would like to discuss further on this topic.
