Your Everyday Art World Lane Relyea, 2013-08-30 A critic takes issue with the art world's romanticizing of networks and participatory projects linking them to the values of a globalized neoliberal economy. Over the past twenty years the network has come to dominate the art world affecting not just interaction among art professionals but the very makeup of the art object itself. The hierarchical and restrictive structure of the museum has been replaced by temporary projects scattered across the globe staffed by free agents hired on short term contracts viewed by spectators defined by their predisposition to participate and make connections. In this book Lane Relyea tries to make sense of these changes describing a general organizational shift in the art world that affects not only material infrastructures but also conceptual categories and the construction of meaning. Examining art practice, exhibition strategies, art criticism and graduate education, Relyea aligns the transformation of the art world with the advent of globalization and the neoliberal economy. He analyzes the new networked participatory art world hailed by some as inherently democratic in terms of the pressures of part time temp work in a service economy, the calculated stockpiling of business contacts and the anxious duty of being a team player at work. Relyea calls attention to certain networked forms of art including relational aesthetics, multiple or fictive artist identities and bricolaged objects that can be seen to oppose the values of neoliberalism rather than romanticizing and idealizing them. Relyea offers a powerful answer to the claim that the interlocking functions of the network, each act of communicating or connecting or practice are without political content.

Stevie Smith R. Huk, 2004-12-10 In this first book length study of Stevie Smith, Romana Huk reassesses the work of this major twentieth century woman writer as emerging not only from the practices of female literary modernism but also from within the tumultuous cultural context of mid century Europe. Huk considers both the poems and the novels in the light of their cultural and literary context. Amongst the work treated here is Smith's rarely discussed trilogy of novels: Novel on Yellow Paper, Over the Frontier and The Holiday. California. Court of Appeal (1st Appellate District). Castellani, Lasse Gerrits, 2024-06-05 Embark on a riveting journey through the study of social complexity with The Atlas of Social Complexity. Over three decades of scientific exploration unfold unravelling the enigmatic threads that compose the fabric of society. From the dance of bacteria to human machine interactions to the ever shifting dynamics of power in social networks, this Atlas maps the evolution of our understanding of social complexity. The Academy, 1899 The Academy and Literature, 1899 Gramophone, 1997 Medievalism and Reception Dr Ellie Crookes, Ika Willis, Ellie Crookes, 2024-12-03 The relationship between medievalism and reception explored via a rich variety of case studies. At the intersection of the twin fields of medievalism and reception studies is the timely and fascinating question of how a contested past is deployed in the context of a conflicted and contradictory present. Despite their shared roots and a fundamental orientation towards the entanglement of past and present, the term reception is rarely taken up in medievalist scholarship.

and they have developed along parallel but divergent lines evolving their own emphases problematics sensibilities vocabularies and critical tools This book is the first to reunite these two fields Its introduction and first chapter clearly set out their tangled intellectual and disciplinary histories The ten essays that follow reflect upon the relationship between medievalism and reception in theory and in practice through thematically temporally and geographically expansive case studies engaging with theories of translation postcolonialism fan studies persona studies and Indigenous studies Individual topics examined include the cultural impact of Robin Hood the Tulsa race massacre the crusades in the nineteenth century later representations of Chaucer's works Victorian representations of Anne Boleyn and media such as Star Wars and Game of Thrones As a whole this collection models and demonstrates the value of a new and self-aware approach to medievalism enriched by a conscious and critical redeployment of reception theories and methodologies
