Objectives:

I. Writing: Students will be creating a poem based on a given prompt.

This is an OPEN BOOK test unless you as the teacher decide not to. Students are welcome to look at all previous lessons and assignments and look up any information on the Internet for assistance with research. They will need their resources to create their poem.
- B. They will be creating a Petrarchan sonnet based on anything that they've learned from this poetry unit. They can write it on a person or something. (They must choose from one of the following sources: The Raven, Forgetfulness, Aengus, or The Song of Wandering Aengus)

- a. The sonnet must be 14 lines long.
- b. The sonnet must have no more and no less than 10 syllables per line (iambic pentameter).
- c. The first 8 lines develop the main idea, and the last 6 lines give the conclusion.
- d. Rhyme scheme should be abba cddc efg efg
 - i. To identify rhyme scheme, assign a letter of the alphabet to each rhymed sound at the end of a line. If that sound is repeated later on in the poem, that line receives the same letter.
