Resisting Arrest Robert A. Rushing, 2021-04-28 A volume in the Cultural Studies Series edited by Samir Dayal An innovative and entertaining look at genre popular culture enjoyment and psychoanalysis Detective fiction a category that broadly defined runs the gamut from Oedipus Rex to The Purloined Letter continues to draw a range of fans and scholars and to play a pivotal role in popular entertainment contemporary literature and psychoanalytic theory But how do we derive pleasure from reading about or watching a detective's exploits. Is our enjoyment in the vicarious experience of genius. Or in witnessing the commission of a crime, an equally vicarious experience of violence. Resisting Arrest looks at the detective genre in its many different cultural manifestations from popular fiction Christie to high literature Eco from art films Antonioni to popular television series Monk. In each case Rushing finds that detective stories have less to do with fulfilling our hidden desires as psychoanalytic explanations have traditionally asserted than with purposively thwarting them. He argues that the genre is in fact constituted principally by the promises on which it fails to deliver including the vicarious experience of both genius readers expecting to play Sherlock Holmes are almost always cast as Watson and antisocial violence so that our pleasure is based on what Slavoj Žižek has called the endless circulation around the always missed object. Organized around the key ideas that structure the detective genre Desire Repetition Violence Resisting Arrest offers a thoroughly new interpretation that will appeal to scholars interested in questions about genre and cinema studies popular culture and psychoanalysis.

She Rides Alenka Vrecek, 2025-07-30 At fifty four Alenka was running out of time to follow through on a dream she'd written down in her pocket size Rumi book just after her first marriage crumbled Years later as she slowly rebuilt her life with her second husband things started spiraling out of control The only way she knew how to heal and connect all painful parts of her life was by riding her bike and she didn't want to have regrets But was she brave enough to embark on an unknown path and risk losing everything perhaps even her own life Determined to awaken her dying spirit and heal her battered body Alenka loaded her mountain bike with 50 pounds worth of camping gear and set off on a 2500 mile journey Starting in Lake Tahoe California she hoped to ride along the Sierra Nevada Mountain range to the tip of Mexico's Baja Peninsula following remote mountain trails Alone What followed was an irrevocably transformational journey of love hope courage and resilience and here Alenka tells that story in a voice stripped of self pity and infused with a good dose of humor She Rides is a galvanizing wake up call for anyone who wants to unearth and follow their own deeply buried dreams and reclaim their life

Sidney Lumet Aubrey Malone, 2020-01-01 Punctilious to a fault Sidney Lumet favored intense rehearsal which enabled him to bring in most of his films under budget and under schedule An energized director who captured the heart of New York like no other he created a vast canon of work that stands as a testament to his passionate concern for justice and his great empathy for the hundreds of people with whom he collaborated during a career that spanned more than five decades This is the first full scale biography of a man who is generally regarded as one of the most affable directors of his time Using the oral testimonies of those who worked with him both behind and in front of the camera this book explores Lumet's personality and working methods

Extinction Douglas H. Erwin, 2015-03-22 Some 250 million years ago the earth suffered the greatest biological crisis in its history Around 95 percent of all living species died out a global catastrophe far greater than the dinosaurs demise 185 million years later How this happened remains a mystery But there are many competing theories Some blame huge volcanic eruptions that covered an area as large as the continental United States others argue for sudden changes in ocean levels and chemistry including burps of methane gas and still others cite the impact of an extraterrestrial object similar to what caused the dinosaurs extinction Extinction is a paleontological mystery story Here the world's foremost authority on the subject provides a fascinating overview of the evidence for and against a whole host of hypotheses concerning this cataclysmic event that unfolded at the end of the Permian After setting the scene Erwin introduces the suite of possible perpetrators and the types of evidence paleontologists seek He then unveils the actual evidence moving from China where much of the best evidence is found to a look at extinction in the oceans to the extraordinary fossil animals of the Karoo Desert of South Africa Erwin reviews the evidence for each of the hypotheses before presenting his own view of what happened Although full recovery took tens of millions of years this most massive of mass extinctions was a powerful creative force setting the stage for the development of the world as we know it today In a new preface Douglas Erwin assesses developments in the field since the book s initial publication Reimagining Schools Elliot W. Eisner,2005 A chance to explore the contributions made to the fields of Arts Education Curriculum Studies and Qualitative Research by Professor Eisner who has spent forty years researching thinking and writing about some of the key and enduring issues
