The New Asia Guy E. Métraux, François Crouzet, 1965 Regionalism in the New Asia-Pacific Order Joseph A. Camilleri, 2003-01-01 Regionalism in the Asia Pacific is a complex and rapidly evolving phenomenon This volume explores the relationship between globalization and regionalization between states markets and civil society and between US hegemony and Asian aspirations The New Cold War and the Remaking of Regions James McGill Professor of International Relations T V Paul, T. V. Paul, Markus Kornprobst, 2025 This book argues that the world entered a new cold war when Russia invaded Ukraine in 2022 While the United States and its allies are in competition with China Russia and their allies this new cold war is far different from the old cold war The New Cold War and the Remaking of Regions shows how this new competition will be multipolar and multiplex not a world separated into rigid blocs Rather secondary powers small states and even non state actors will pragmatically pick and choose when their interests intersect with the great powers preserving their flexibility and influence The new cold war will play out in regional competitions that may lead to either peaceful change or conflict but it will also vary from region to region and across sectors such as the tech economy This volume contributes to the study of regionalism in international relations and is part of a new wave of scholarship that changes the focus of international relations from great powers alone to a recognition of the agency of others Contributors address the new cold war and regional ordering processes through different theoretical perspectives realist liberal constructivist and critical approaches

Asia's New Institutional Architecture Vinod K. Aggarwal, Min Gyo Koo, 2007-10-15 Can regional and interregional mechanisms better institutionalize the creasing complexity of economic and security ties among states in Nor east Southeast and South Asia As the international state system und goes dramatic changes in both security and trade relations in the wake of the Cold War s end the Asian financial crisis and the attacks of Sept ber 11 2001 this question is now of critical importance to both academics and policymakers Still little research has been done to integrate the ana sis of both regional security and economic dynamics within a broader c text that will give us theoretically informed policy insights Indeed when we began our background research on the origin and e lution of Asia s institutional architecture in trade and security we found that many scholars had focused on individual subregions whether Nor east Southeast or South Asia In some cases scholars examined links tween Northeast and Southeast Asia and the literature often refers to these two subregions collectively as Asia artificially bracketing South Asia Of course we are aware that as products of culture economics history and politics the boundaries of geographic regions change over time Yet the rapid rise of India and its increasing links to East Asia especially those formed in the early 1990s suggest that it would be fruitful to examine both developments within each subregion as well as links across subregions
